Shooting Stars
Rising Stocks
And Gigantic Crops
Well May We Give Thanks

By Arthur Brisbane

Copyright, 1927, by Star Company.

TONIGHT and tomorrow night, look for shooting stars. This earth, rolling slowly on its axis, a thousand miles an hour, and around the sun, nearly two million miles a day is now crossing the "Leonid meteor stream" particles of solid matter, of various sizes, some smaller than your fist, some bigger than a house.

Luckily, when they strike our atmosphere, at terrific speed, friction with the air melts them, and you see a "shooting star," red-hot material, largely iron, on its way to earth, falling in the ocean. Millions of these meteors fall to earth, in the form of dust, gradually piling up at the ocean bottom.

It is said 240,000 shooting stars were seen [illegible] through the Leonid stream in 1853.

We may be grateful for our atmosphere, in supplying us with oxygen, protecting us from a bombardment that would destroy every building on earth, and kill nearly all human beings on it.

Stocks were cheerful yesterday, "big Steel" went up $4, General Motors went up, publication of an alleged picture of Henry Ford's new car seemed not to worry Wall street. Dry goods store and chain store stocks went up.

Mr. Isaac Gimbel, of Gimbel Brothers, doing a yearly business of $125,000,000 in four American cities, said on Sunday: "Some Americans do not realize what it means to do business in forty-eight great States, with the same money, laws, credit and language everywhere.

"When I was last in Cairo I saw big wagons of the Paris Bon Marche going through the streets. I looked up the head of their Egyptian branch and found that they had come three thousand miles from Paris to do a business of $1,000,000 a year. A successful American business man wouldn't go 100 miles for that much business.

"I traveled back to London with an Englishman managing six British houses in Cairo and other eastern points, involved in revolutions, different laws and currencies.

"Here an American can operate in forty-eight States, one of them, Texas, as big as several European countries, and everywhere the same money, laws, language, business methods, sound credits. We should be very grateful."

Stocks are not the only things increasing in value. The ten most important agricultural crops of the country have an "indicated value" to date of eight thousand million dollars, which, according to Mr. Garrett, who knows, is five hundred millions above a recent estimate.

POLICE SHOTGUN SQUAD AIDS IN ROUNDING UP TEN ROBBERY SUSPECTS

As a result of police activity following a long series of holdups and robberies here, ten men were being held today at various stations on technical charges of being suspicious persons.

Although the police claimed that confessions had been made by at least two of the prisoners, no charges were preferred against them. Under the law suspicious persons may be held 24 hours.

The most important of the round-ups was made by a detail headed by Special Officer John L. Willard of the Brighton station, when four men were taken into custody at different places in the South End, on one occasion a house being surrounded by police armed with shotguns.

The four prisoners were taken to the Brighton station where, in the office of Capt. John M. Anderson,

REMUS WINS RIGHT TO QUESTION ALL JURORS

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN,
International News Staff Correspondent

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 15.—George Remus, ex-bootlegger king, on trial for the murder of his wife, caused a sensation in court today when he won his fourth big point in the case, after bitter verbal clashes with State prosecutors.

Remus had just scored his third point in the trial when he was granted the right to question talesmen for the jury that will determine whether he shall die in the electric chair or be found to have been insane when he killed his wife.

The prosecution tried to prevent his questioning talesmen because his counsel had set up an insanity defense.

Judge Chester R. Shook ruled that not the defendant's present status, but his condition October 6, the day

HUB GAS COMPANY ASKS RIGHT TO REVISE RATES

Permision to revise its rates was asked of the Public Utilitites Commission today by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company.

An outstanding feature of the new schedules which the company proposes is a fixed charge of $1 a month for each customer whether gas is used or not, as long as the meter is connected.

The rates to large wholesale consumers would be less, those to householders higher, under the proposed schedules.

The present rate is $1.20 per thousand cubic feet for most residence customers, with lesser prices for large users.

In the proposed rates, the domestic

SACASA WAS TOLD TO QUIT PARLEY OR LOSE MEXICO AID

By JOHN PAGE

Copyright, 1927, by the Washington Herald

Washington, Nov. 15.—The Hearst newspapers today publish documentary proof that the Corinto Peace Conference, arranged by the American State Department in October of last year in the hope of ending the Nicaraguan revolt, was broken up by President Calles, of Mexico.

Today's Disclosures

TODAY, the Boston Evening American publishes the second of the series of articles bringing to light the secret anti-American machinations of the present Mexican government. Today's article, based like others on official documents from the confidential files of President Calles, shows:

Secretary Kellogg.

That the American government sought to end the Mexican-inspired conflict in Nicaragua in October of last year by calling a peace conference between the warring factions.

That it was President Calles who wrecked this conference by warning Dr. Juan Bautista Sacasa, the Nicaraguan rebel leader, that any peace arrangements must be based on an agreement previously made between Calles and Sacasa.

THAT Calles ordered the Mexican Ambassador to Guatemala to suspend all "financial aid" to Sacasa if the latter did not reply to the warning in a satisfactory manner.

That Sacasa immediately thereafter broke off peace negotiations and decided to establish the seat of his revolutionary government at Puerto Cabezas, on the Atlantic coast of Nicaragua, and that the Mexican government paid him $25,000 for expenses incidental to the installation of such government.

And that President Calles intended, after the establishment of a puppet government in Nicaragua, to do likewise in other Central American Republics, with the view of establishing an anti-American Bolshevist federation as a nucleus to be joined later by other Latin-American countries.

These documents again substantiate the statements of President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg on the Mexican-Nicaraguan situation, and prove American intervention in Nicaragua to have been justified and necessary.

This revolt, as shown by the Hearst papers yesterday, was organized and financed by the Mexican Executive for the purpose of overthrowing the pro-American Conservative Government of Nicaragua, which had gone on record as favoring the carrying out of an agreement with the United States permitting construction of a transcontinental canal through its territory by the American Government. President Calles proposed to establish in its place a "Liberal" regime under Dr. Juan Bautista Sacasa, pledged to oppose American construction of the canal.

Later there will be shown the hand of a powerful government on the other hemisphere, backing up Mexico. An American canal which might be of great value to this country commercially and in war is not wanted by these governments.

Two months of bloody but indecisive fighting, which began in August, 1926, had cooled the ardor of the Liberal troops to the point where they were wilting under the absentee leadership of Dr. Sacasa, safe in his refuge in Guatemala, and were willing to talk peace.

Calles Bombshell Ends Conference

Our State Department, gauging this willingness correctly, issued invitations to a peace conference to be held on the U. S. S. Tulsa, an American warship anchored off the Nicaraguan Pacific port of Corinto. Admiral Julian L. Latimer was the mediator appointed by President Coolidge. The Admiral was head of the destroyer squadron and on board of the Tulsa. The invitations were quickly accepted by both the Nicaraguan Government and Liberal rebels, the negotiations began under favorable auspices and a peace agreement seemed probable on the basis of Liberal participation in the government, with several posts in the Cabinet but with a Conservative President.

Then Calles threw his bombshell. The explosion blew up the Corinto Peace Conference and so far has cost the lives of several thousand Nicaraguans, two or three score Mexicans and a half dozen American Marines. The total cost, in lives or otherwise, has not yet been reckoned, and must depend upon events still in the making.

The Calles bomb was wrapped up in a telegram sent by General Jose Alvarez, the Mexican President's Chief of Staff, to Aaron Saenz, Secretary of the Mexican Department of Foreign Relations. The English text follows:

By order of the President you will please communicate urgently with Ambassador Cravioto (Mexican Ambassador to Guatemala), and have him inform Sacasa that if the peace arrangements at Corinto are not based on arrangements concluded in this city, with Liberal elements controlling the executive power, the Mexican Government will retire all moral and material aid immediately. You will instruct Cravioto to suspend all financial aid to Sacasa if the latter does not reply in a satisfactory manner.

Chief of the President's Staff,
General J. Alvarez.

The Boston Evening American is publishing elsewhere a facsimile of the original of this threatening telegram, taken from the official files of the Mexican Government.

The immediate effect of this historic document, dated October 18, 1926, was all that the Mexican Executive could have desired, though a later effect was that of American military intervention in Nicaragua and the final effects are still unknown.

Threat to Suspend Money Aid Delivered to Sacasa

Ambassador Cravioto's delivery of the Calles ultimatum to Dr. Sacasa, in Guatemala City, resulted in hurried conferences between that Liberal Nicaraguan chieftain and his advisers. Cravioto's representations, combined with the Mexican Executive's threats to cut off all money payments, sufficed to bring Sacasa and his followers into line with the uncompromising position taken by Calles. But several days were required for Sacasa, in his turn, to convince the peace-bent Liberal delegates at the Corinto Conference of the necessity of breaking off negotiations. When fully informed of the Mexican Government's position, they agreed.

One liberal delegate, in discussing the breakup of the peace conference with Lawrence Dennis, American Charge d'Affaires in Nicaragua, admitted openly that his party had the unlimited backing of the Mexican Government, and seemed inclined to boast of it.

These developments in Guatemala City and Corinto enabled Senor Saenz, the Mexican Secretary of Foreign Relations, to reply to the President's Chief of Staff on October 25, just a week following receipt of the Alvarez telegram. His reply is contained in the following official telegram, taken from the files of the Mexican Government:

To the Chief of the President's Staff,
General Jose Alvarez.

Please inform the President that Cravioto today communicates the following:

"Sacasa, after a long conference with Zepeda and de la Selva, has decided to discontinue the peace conference at Corinto and to depart immediately for Puerto Cabezas to establish the Constitutional Government.

"At a meeting which I held with the Ministers of Salvador, Costa Rica and Honduras, and the Foreign Minister of Guatemala, we agreed to recommend to our respective governments the immediate recognition of Sacasa, in order to lend moral force to his government.

"I beg you earnestly to call this recommendation to the attention of the President, recommending to him that Mexico should be the first to extend recognition, in order to solidify our policy in Nicaragua for the future. I have given fifty thousand pesos to Sacasa for preliminary expenses incidental to the installation of his government."

I communicate this to you for your information and await your further instructions.

Secretary Saenz.

Failure to End Warfare a Triumph for Calles

The Hearst papers are in possession of this telegram, obtained, like others reproduced in these articles, from Mexican Government employees who feel that the ultimate welfare of their country will be promoted by giving the American people accurate information of the goings on in Mexico.

The failure of the Corinto Conference to end civil warfare in Nicaragua was a triumph for President Calles and one of the most notable victories of Mexican over American diplomacy in recent years. It was a humiliating defeat for the American State Department, which had arranged for the conversations to be carried on aboard an American warship, technically American soil. The prestige of the American Government was therefore involved, and every influence was exerted to bring about a peace agreement which would put an end to the conflict and satisfy both the pro-Mexican Liberals and the pro-American Conservatives.

Our State Department, as Secretary Kellogg disclosed later, was aware that the real purpose of the Sacasa revolution was the establishment of an anti-American government in Nicaragua. Full documentary proof was lacking, but it was known that President Calles proposed by force or otherwise to put Mexico at the head of a Bolshevist Federation to include the five Central American Republics of Nicaragua, Guatemala, El Salvador, Costa Rica and Honduras. It was proposed later, as opportunity offered, to add the Carribbean countries of Venezuela, Colombia, Haiti and San Domingo, and perhaps eventually Cuba and Porto Rico.

Others Expected to Follow Mexico's Foreign Policy

Each unit of the Federation, Calles intended, should be locally self-governing but follow the foreign policy of Mexico, particularly in its anti-American aspects.

Speeches made at gatherings of the Mexican headquarters of the Calles-fostered Anti-Imperialist League contained frequent references to the Mexican President's plans for such a Federation. In one such speech a Mexican Government official also made the open assertion that if the Sacasa revolution should be successful, Nicaragua would immediately abrogate the treaties giving the United States the right to build a canal through her territory and establish a naval base at Fonseca Bay.

"The canal will be built and the naval base established," he said, "but by ANOTHER power."

This speaker urged his audience, whatever country they might come from, to aid in the Nicaraguan fight for "freedom," so that Nicaragua, in her turn, might aid them to obtain freedom in their own countries.

"The true freedom such as only Russia and Mexico now know," he shouted.

(Tomorrow official documents to be published in the Boston Evening American will reveal secret expenditures of the Calles Government totalling more than a million dollars, and used in further measures hostile to the United States.)

basic charge is cut to 85 cents per thousand cubic feet but the rate is revised by the $1 per month fixed charge.

The domestic contract rate schedule is as follows, as proposed by the gas company:

Fixed charges—$1 per month per customer; $1 per month per customer for the first 300 cubic feet or less of demand, plus $1 per month for each additional 50 cubic feet of demand.

There are, however, various alternative rate schedules which customers may, under certain conditions, substitute for this schedule.

John prefers blondes.

FORD SUED FOR $6,000,000 IN AUTO DEAL

Pontiac, Mich., Nov. 15 (I.N.S.)—More than 1,800 stockholders of the old Lincoln Motor Car Company, headed by Henry M. and Wilfred C. Leland, filed suit for approximately $6,000,000 against Henry and Edsel Ford in Circuit Court today.

A forecast of this legal action was carried exclusively by International News Service several weeks ago.

The 1,800, all listed as plaintiffs in the case, charge that the Fords have failed to keep an agreement to reimburse them for the losses they suffered when the Lincoln Motor Company was purchased by Henry Ford at a receiver's sale for $8,000,000. It is alleged the Fords "came into possession" of a going concern worth more than $25,000,000.

The new indictments centre around charges of Patsy d'Alessio of Cambridge, who said he talked with officer Pelletier when he was sitting in his car on Fresh Pond Parkway.

The men were held by Judge Dillon for further hearing on bonds previously furnished, no date being announced.

of recovering bodies did not begin until daylight.

Digging into the ruins of one structure, the rescuers brought out the body of an unidentified man making the known dead twenty-two.

Fire department officials believed that at least seven additional bodies would be found, six in the wrecked building of the Pittsburgh clay pot plant and one inside the mass of twisted ruins that had been the mammoth death dealing gas reservoir.

Of more than 450 injured persons treated at hospitals about 150 remained in the institutions today, some in a critical condition. Many suffered broken arms and legs, while others had serious head injuries.

Insurance experts, after inspecting the devastated district, refused to give any definite estimate of the loss, saying it would mount into the millions. A survey showed that some 30 large commercial houses and 200 homes were hit hard by the gas blast.

The entire loss was not confined to the immediate region of the explosion, for hundreds of windows throughout Pittsburgh and suburbs were shattered.

One case of looting was reported from the stricken district during the night.

More than 50 laborers, employed by the Philadelphia company, parent concern of the Equitable Gas Company, owners of the tank, were sent into the district to assist in removing debris and searching for additional bodies.

He is also suspected of being one of the men who shot and killed Reserve Officer Alfred N. Hollis during the robbery of Pill Brothers, hardware store in Quincy.

The police stated that the revolver taken from Officer Campbell when he walked into the Allston street holdup was found, together with another gun, in the room of one of the m[illegible]

The patrolmen who assisted Officer Willard in making the arrests were Peter Cullen, Arthur McDermott and Herbert Haskins, all of the Brighton Station.

Early today Special Officer Butler of Captain Livingston's flying squadron, saw three men acting suspiciously in a motor car near Massachusetts avenue and Boylston street. The men, who were held at headquarters as suspicious persons, all wore kid gloves. In the back of the car the officer said he found burglars' tools, flashlights and two paving stones. The trio are said to have previous police records.

SEIZED AFTER CRASH.

nother groAup of three men was held following a triple auto crash, near Summer street and Dorchester avenue, that wrecked three machines and sent a fourth man to City Hospital, where he is on the danger list. Two of the three men held were also injured.

Shortly before the accident, two men held up the cashier in Walton's lunch, No. 1 School street, and, the police say, left in a machine similar to that of one of the men held.

At the Milk street station, Charles E. Morse, Walton cashier, was unable to identify the trio. Other Walton cashiers who have been robbed will view them. They were arrested by officers of Captain Livingston's squad.

FINDS SON SHOT DEAD IN BROCKTON HOME

Brockton, Nov. 15.—With a shotgun wound in his abdomen, Charles Stafford Peterson, twenty-three, was found dead in his bedroom in Leach avenue today, a few minutes after his father had heard the shot. A shotgun was on the floor.

The youth had recently undergone an operation for appendicitis and for ulcers of the stomach. He had been ill for two years.

Medical Examiner W. W. Fullerton viewed the body.

laughing, both are vivacious, while the college scenes that Sarah Kunsig looks on through pretty eyes of gray, Florence Trumbull once saw through eyes of blue.

Incidentally Miss Kunsig only echoed words once pronounced by Miss Trumbull when she said, today, that "John dances di-vinely."

A rippling laugh greeted the second question to Miss Trumbull.

"Are you sure it doesn't mean you and John aren't going together any more?"

"Not at all."

"Well, why did he take her instead of you?"

Another one of those captivating laughs.

"Why, there's no explanation, except that she's a friend of John and I know her, too, of course. John just wanted to go over to the dance. I suppose, and she was there and I was here (in Connecticut), so he went with her.

"John Coolidge and I are still the best of friends. Did I know he was going to take her? What's that got to do with it?"

MAYOR NICHOLS' BABY BOY IS LAID TO REST

A tiny body that held life's spark for but a brief few days after a birth that nearly cost the life of its mother, was placed in a grave at Forest Hills Cemetery today by Mayor Nichols and the members of his family.

It was the body of the child born to Mrs. Carrie M. Nichols, who is convalescing slowly at City Hospital and who still believes her baby is living.

Services, brief and simple, were said at the grave today by the Rev. H. Clifford Hay, pastor of the Church of the New Jerusalem.

MORE JURORS DRAFTED FOR NORTH END DEATH TRIAL

The list of jurors available for the trial of Gangi Cero of Brooklyn, N. Y., for the murder of Joseph Fantasia in the North End on June 11 was exhausted today and officials of the Suffolk Superior court, criminal session, were forced to draft jurors from the civil session in an effort to complete the panel.

Only three of the jury were accepted from the criminal list, 13 having been challenged. Attorney William R. Ccharton appeared for the defendant, while Assistant District Attorney William McDonnell is prosecuting.

Boy Held for Coat Theft

John C. Gaynes, 17, of Roxbury, arrested in Somerville on two charges of larceny of overcoats from teachers in the Northeastern Junior High School, today pleaded not guilty in Somerville District Court. He was held in $3,500 bail for hearing Monday.

REMUS IS GIVEN RIGHT TO QUIZZ ALL JURORS

of the slaying, was the only legal question.

Thereupon Remus, who was a Chicago lawyer before he became bootlegger king here, got ready for battle.

FIGHTS BACK AT TAFT.

This started when Carl Bassler, assistant prosecutor, asked a talesman:

"Do you know George Connors, a Remus lieutenant?"

Remus jumped to his feet, a flush mounting to his face and bald head.

"I object to that term, 'Remus' lieutenant'" he shouted. "He is my secretary."

"He is just what I say he is," Bassler retorted.

Remus, with an elaborate gesture to the court, resumed: "Your honor, I object to this designation. I think it is wholly uncalled for and designed to create a prejudicial impression of the defendant Remus."

Charles P. Taft, son of Chief Justice William Howard Taft, and prosecutor of Remus, supported the contention of Bassler that Connors was a "lieutenant" and not a "secretary."

STRICKEN FROM RECORD.

"Remus is not making a misstatement to the court," exclaimed Remus, as usual omitting the use of the first personal pronoun.

"The reference to Mr. Connors as a "lieutenant" will be stricken from the record," Judge Shook then ruled.

And Remus sat down with a smile, his fourth point won.

Prior to this clash the judge granted Remus' motion for a subpoena authorizing the sheriff to seize ledgers, records, bank statements and other papers he says are in the possession of Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., the "man in the case," and members of the family of Mrs. Remus. These represent, he says, $1,800,000 of the fortune he charges was stolen from him by his wife and Dodge.

Some of the checks, according to the petition, are endorsed by "Imogene Remus, per Franklin L. Dodge."

Remus also asked for receipted bills and statements that, according to the petition, covered clothing and men's wear bought by Dodge in Cincinnati shops and charged to Remus' account on the approval of Mrs. Remus.

In a statement before today's session, Remus announced he would make the opening address to the jury for the defense when the panel is chosen and he said his statement would be the longest ever made in a trial of this kind, 12,500 words, to explain exactly his plea of "transitory maniacal insanity."

Prosecutor Taft said he was fully prepared to cope with Remus' tactics adding.

"The State's case will be limited to those who actually witnessed the murder unless Remus forces us to go further. If he attempts to prove a conspiracy against him by Mrs. Remus, Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., and others, it will be necessary of course for the State to use many more witnesses."

JOHN M'CORMACK TO BE MADE DOCTOR OF MUSIC

Belfast, Ireland, Nov. 15 (A.P.)—The degree of Doctor of Music will be conferred upon John McCormack, Irish tenor, by the Senate of the National University of Ireland, which has its headquarters in Dublin. The degree is in recognition of the tenor's eminence in the musical world and his services to Irish music.

As McCormack is now in America and will not return to Ireland until December 19, the degree will be conferred sometime between then and Christmas.

HIGH TAX CLOSES ALL ATHENS MOVIE SHOWS

Athens, Nov. 15 (A.P.).—The population, which normally flocks in droves to the movies, is in a filmless state—and doesn't like it. All motion picture theatres have been closed because the proprietors complain the State is impoverishing them by a tax of 65 per cent. on gross receipts.

The people are taking this rather hard as they are extremely fond of the shows, mostly American in origin.

COMMENT BY BETTY ALDEN ON CURRENT HAPPENINGS IN BOSTON SOCIETY

Night-Before-Game Dance Next Friday High Spot on This Week's Program of Younger Smart Set's Activities

FRIDAY EVENING IS TO PROVIDE A BANNER OCCASION FOR THE YOUNGER SET. THE JUST-OUTS AND their swains anticipate with keenest enthusiasm the debutante party set for the "night before" the annual gridiron encounter between the Crimson and the Blue. It is to be given for two popular buds, Miss Nancy Olney and Miss Dorothea Frothingham, and takes its blithesome way in the handsome new ballroom of the town's most exclusive club (of the feminine gender), the Chilton.

PARENTS OF THE TWO BUDS ARE THE hosts for the party—Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Frothingham and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Olney. The debutante path of the two should be strewn with roses, since both are greatly popular and there is a veritable host of adoring relatives and friends to speed them on the merry path of a first Winter. And what is perhaps even more potent to a good season from the bud's own point of view, each had the pleasure of shopping in Paris for lovely things wherewith to adorn herself. I understand the city on the Seine furnished a most delectable wardrobe for each.

THE LINER ILE DE FRANCE brings in some notables for whom Boston society has an immense interest. Mrs. Stephen V. R. Thayer and the Viscount and Viscountess Roederer arrive in New York very shortly en route to Boston and Westwood to be house guests of Mrs. Clarence R. Edwards. I believe Mrs. Thayer plans not to come over immediately, lingering in New York for a while, but the former Miss Julia Thayer and her spouse tarry only in the Big City for a day or so before continuing their journey here.

IT WAS A VERY PRETTILY DONE LUNCHEON that Mrs. Max Whiting gave yesterday at the Union Club for Miss Peggy Read and Miss Jane Prouty. Luncheons are having a vast popularity this season as a means of feting the debutante, and ever so many such affairs have been and are on the calendar. Miss Read and Miss Prouty, both fair haired, were frocked and hatted somewhat similarly, that is, both wore red frocks, and both topped off with brown hats. They made a very charming appearance.

BOSTON'S VERY SMART young married set comes in for a number of new members this Winter. First and foremost in the list might be mentioned that lovely young Chicagoan, formerly Miss Eleanor Patterson, now Mrs. Russell Sturgis Codman, Jr., whose lares et penates are to be set up beneath a local roof. Boston' society's welcome to this notable young person will be of the widely opened-arm sort.

FIRSTLY, BECAUSE OF HER very own lovely and delightful self. Secondly, because she closely allies the aristocracy of Boston and the Windy City. And thirdly, because she is a most unusual young person, with a stage career of first water already achieved. And if these were not sufficient, did not she and Mr. Codman accomplish their marriage most romantically, via the simplicity of elopement and sans every vestige of the splurge and formality the marriage of a Patterson to a Codman would ordinarily necessitate.

HATS SHOULD COME OFF TO Mrs. Laurence W. Morgan and her band working for the House of Mercy. They've rung a change on that "Old Faithful" of benefits, the rummage sale. They have named theirs "Sale Extraordinary," and really have the stock wherewith to back up such an assertion. The dilettante at benefits and such would have said, without hesitation, that there was nothing new under the sun so far as rummage goes; that the rummage sale was the rummage sale, no more and no less. But it remains for Mrs. Morgan and her associates to show to what heights the familiar occasion has been glorified.

MRS. MORGAN'S ANNOUNCEMENT states that special attention is being given to old silver and bric-a-brac, of which they have a splendid collection. But the piece de resistance of the "Sale Extraordinary" is the entire stock of a well-known importer which has been obtained. Frocks for the morning, the afternoon and the evening may be had, and the prices range upward from a most insignificant sum. The staff of workers is quite as significant as the articles to be sold—Mrs. Morgan has gathered about her for the two-day sale, today and tomorrow, at 410 Boylston street, some very important matrons.

MRS. FRANCIS H. APPLETON, JR., is one. And others are Mrs. John E. Boit, Mrs. Robert Codman, Mrs. Edward D. Brandegee, Mrs. William Bacon, Mrs. Gerald Bramwell, Mrs. Marshall Fabyan, Mrs. Wyman K. Flint, Mrs. Reginald Johnson, Mrs. Paul M. Hubbard, Mrs. Frederick I. Emery, Mrs. Thomas P. Lindsay, Mrs. Herbert W. Mason, Mrs. Samuel Payson, Mrs. Malcolm Storer, Mrs. Leverett Tuckerman, Mrs. William D. Turner, Mrs. Charles Wentworth and Mrs. George S. Winslow.

CHURCH PLANS RADIO FOR MOTHERS WITH CHILDREN

Camden, N. J., Nov. 14 (A.P.)—The Centenary-Tabernacle Methodist Episcopal Church plans to install radio equipment to provide for mothers who cannot leave their children at home.

Dr. Alexander Corson, pastor of the church, proposes to put a loud speaker in the parish house, where mothers may bring their children and "listen in" without disturbing the congregation.

AUTO SMASHES FENCE, BUT ESCAPES DIVE IN RIVER

Something mystic was hovering protectingly above George Rizzo of Wellington avenue, Everett, today, for when his car skidded and ploughed down 15 feet of fence rail above the Mystic River, the machine refused to dive in.

Rizzo, driving a machine owned by a Caribou, Me., man, was going through Alford street toward Sullivan square when he put on his brake and skidded.

TRUCKS BREAK BRIDGES IN FLOOD AREA

Heavily loaded trucks, chiefly from in and around Boston, are breaking down the temporary bridges and reconstructed roads in the vicinity of Littleton, N. H., the Chamber of Commerce of that town informed the Boston Chamber of Commerce today.

As a result an appeal was issued by the New England affairs bureau of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to Boston shippers to route trucks away from the flood district of Vermont and New Hampshire.

The Boston & Maine Railroad announced the beginning of the operation of the Minute Man to Chicago on regular schedule. Normal service will be restored on the Fitchburg division between Boston and North Adams tomorrow. The Connecticut River division from Springfield to Wells River is now open over its entire length.

The Boston & Albany Railroad, beginning today, no longer detours its through trains en route to the West, having, in record-breaking time, completed construction of a single track through the flooded district in the Berkshire Hills. A second track will be constructed as soon as possible.

RED CROSS OFFICIAL DIES

Washington, Nov. 15 (A.P.).—Arthur W. Dunn, director of the American Junior Red Cross, died here of heart trouble.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION DEMANDED

Education is the country's biggest enterprise, yet it is denied federal representation, Miss Charl Ormond Williams, field secretary of the legislative division of the National Education Association, lamented today before the Boston Professional Women's Club.

Miss Williams was the principal speaker at the opening luncheon of the club in the Hotel Statler.

"Because the school children of today are the citizens of tomorrow, because the future of our country rests on education, this enterprise is of infinitely greater importance than any commercial undertaking," she said.

"Yet agriculture, commerce and labor each has its secretary in the President's Cabinet and is represented in the discussions at the White House with the President.

"Recognizing the importance of education, civic and educational leaders have demanded establishment of a Federal department of education provision for which is contained in the Curtis-Reed bill.

"Private and parochial schools might take advantage of research findings of such a department, with the understanding that they might be adopted or rejected.

"Under such circumstances there could be no possibility of Federal control of the schools, nor would there be any danger of undesirable standardization of education."

Six hundred club members were present at the luncheon, at whose head table sat, as guests: Major Ernest Hatch, Brig.-Gen. William E. Horton, Commander Leland Jordan, Miss Williams, Joe Mitchell Chappel, Mrs. Theo Ruggles Kitson, C. Hassler Capron, Marie Sundelius of "The King's Henchman," and Eleanor Dudley of "Broadway."

Mrs. Nelson W. Howard, president of the club, presided; Mrs. Joseph C. Otis was chairman of reception, Mrs. Oscar C. Lenk was chairman of hospitality and Dr. Marion Cowan Burroughs, Dr. Angela M. Greeley, Mabel Fisk Barstow, Caro Fisher Colburn and Kathleen Cooke were ushers.

BROTHER NABS DRIVER WHO INJURES SISTER

Framingham, Nov. 15.—Within an hour after seriously injuring a girl with his truck and leaving the scene of the accident without making himself known, according to police charges, Andrew Wilson, 60, of Cold Spring street, Ashland, was arrested by the injured girl's brother.

Miss Elizabeth H. Olson of Twin Oaks Farm, a nurse employed in Boston, was knocked down by the truck, police allege, as she was on her way home in Summer street. She is at a hospital. Constable Charles W. Olson and Special Officer George Putnam arrested the driver.

Barthelmess Slow Poke When Love Is Real

New York, Nov. 15 (A.P.).—Richard Barthelmess, who never has the least difficulty in surmounting the most astounding obstacles to reach the side of his lady fair in the films, seems to be more easily balked in real life.

On August 22, shortly after Barthelmess' divorce from his first wife, Mary Hay, his engagement to Katherine Wilson, stage and screen actress, was announced. November 15 was mentioned as the probable date of the marriage.

But today Miss Wilson told the Associated Press that their plans were very indefinite and that she and her fiance could not possibly be married until they are "both in the same city at the same time."

Barthelmess, she said, was prevented from coming East by work on his latest picture and she could not go West because of preparatory work on a new Broadway production in which she is to appear.

STATE BOARD IN MILK PARLEY

Increase of from one to one and one-half cents in the price of milk was under discussion at the State House today during a conference between t State emergency Milk Commission and representatives of the milk producers and distributors.

The discussion took place in the office of Arthur W. Gilbert, State Commissioner of Agriculture and a member of the emergency commission.

An increase in price, because of a shortage bound to be felt following the loss of milch herds in the Vermont flood, was forecast yeste lay.

POPE TO NAME FOUR CARDINALS DEC. 12

Rome, Nov. 15 (A.P.)—Pope Pius has decided to hold a secret consistory on December 12 and a public consistory on December 15, it is reported in reliable Vatican circles.

According to this same information the Pontiff will create in that consistory four new cardinals, namely, Monsignor Sebastiano Nicotra, now papal nuncio at Lisbon, and Benedictine Father Giustiniano Seredi, who will be appointed archbishop and primate of Hungary, and two Spanish cardinals, whose names have not yet been reported. One of the latter also will be appointed archbishop of Toledo.

MOTHER
Cross, Feverish Child Needs this Harmless Laxative

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Fig Syrup," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless, "fruity laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

TRUSS EXPERTS COMING

DEMONSTRATE THE FAMOUS RICE METHOD FREE TO CALLERS AT HOTEL

If you are ruptured, your big opportunity has now arrived. If you would like to be free from the slavery of gouging, pinching, chafing trusses that make life a burden, then HERE AND NOW is the time to act.

W. S. Rice of Adams, N. Y., originator of the famous Rice Non-Surgical Method for rupture, is sending his personal representatives, with Medical Expert, registered in the State of Massachusetts, to Boston, Mass. They will be at the Adams House from Monday morning, November 14th, until Saturday evening, November 19th.

These representatives are here to personally demonstrate to all ruptured people what the Rice Rupture Method can accomplish. You have, no doubt, heard and read much about this famous Method and the results which thousands have reported from it. Now, you have the chance to find out all about it—to have it demonstrated to you and to see what it can do on YOUR OWN particular rupture. Just call at the hotel and my representatives will give you their personal attention, best advice and complete demonstration absolutely without charge.

Are you tired of that binding, hampering, uncomfortable truss? Would you like to be free of it forever? Then investigate this Rice Method and find out the possibilities it holds out. Surely a Method that could cause so many thousands of former rupture sufferers to report permanent relief must be worthy of your full and complete investigation.

The Rice Method is different from anything else. It is modern, up-to-the-minute, abreast of the latest scientific developments. It is the one Method that you are not asked to take on faith alone—the one Method that is positively demonstrated to you, right on your own person, without any charge whatever. You do not spend a penny unless, after having a full and complete demonstration you decide that this is the Method for you. And you—you alone—are the sole judge of that.

In justice to yourself, come in and see the Rice Representatives and Medical Expert. Remember, they will be here only six days, then your opportunity will be gone. Grasp it NOW. It may prove to be the wisest thing you ever did, and anyway, it costs you nothing to find out.

Remember, come to the Adams House, any time from 9 to 12 forenoons, 2 to 5 afternoons or 7 to 9 evenings. The dates are from Monday morning, November 14th, until Saturday evening, November 19th.

Don't let this opportunity get away from you.

W. S. RICE, Adams, N. Y.

OPEN $250,000 BEAUTY SALON

With 130 men and women experts in charge, the new $250,000 beauty salon of the Jordan Marsh Company opened officially today. Divided into sections, the de luxe salon, comprising 38 booths, caters to American or domestic tastes for cultivating the feminine charm and to the more fastidious Parisian styles of beautifying.

The American salon is colored in orchid and gray while the French section carries a color scheme of robin's egg blue and gold on the exterior. Inside the "inner shrine," as the French section is named, the scheme is a soft rose.

Two reception rooms, with needle point comfy chairs, a candy shop and consultation rooms for free, expert advice are but a few of the features contained in the parlors.

Gelas, expert French hairdresser, was placed in charge of the Parisian booth and is assisted by Louis Autico and Madam Suzanne, his wife, recent arrivals here.

Facilities for serving 100 clients at a time are provided by the attendance of 38 barbers, 35 manicurists and 40 hairdressers.

Supplies used in the various stages of beauty pursuit are delivered to the customer's side in sealed packets, carrying the initials of the company and even the ice used for facials is made in the company's supply rooms.

FUNERAL OF JOHN LYONS TO BE HELD TOMORROW

The funeral of John Lyons will take place tomorrow from his home, No. 10 Victoria street, Dorchester, followed by a solemn high mass of requiem at St. Williams' Church, Dorchester avenue. Mr. Lyons died at the Holy Ghost Hospital, Cambridge, following a long illness. He was born in Ireland and came to Boston during the period of reconstruction after the Boston fire of 1872. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary G. Lyons; two sons, John Jr., and Frank, and two daughters, Alice Lyons and Sister Marienne Gertrude of Mt. Vincent's Convent, Halifax.

RADIO DIALOG

by

C. WILLIAM RADOS

SATURDAY evening 150 members of the American Radio Relay League met in Worcester to see who could eat the most and also talk over amateur radio. Amateur radio played a great part in the first few days of the Vermont flood and we were there to piece together the whole story.

The amateur radio operators of the United States number 17,000, are all licensed by the government to operate radio stations, and talk all around the world on 20, 40 and 80 meters. From their ranks have come some of the foremost radio engineers, scientists, managers, executives and designers. No wonder the government encourages them and officially recognizes them.

Heard and identified before 7 p. m. last night: Chicago, KYW; Connecticut Agricultural College, WCAC; Providence, WEAN; WBKO, Jersey City; WEAF, New York, and Pittsburgh, KDKA. WKBO was a new one with us, strong and steady.

WCAC announcer promised a nice talk on "Feeding Pullets to Avoid Fall Moulting." Imagine our chagrin when we discovered a previous appointment made it impossible for us to hear this informative talk. We hope no one else missed it.

General Motors was the big Milky Way. Astronomers told us we were due for a shower of meteorites and other stars. They were Day and Alban, singers; Revue Band, with Joe Green; Willem Mengleberg and his symphony orchestra, Edwin Franko Goldman's orchestra; "Judge" Kelley, Marie Cahill and a full sextet. It must cost G-M many thousands, but we don't mind expense when it's worth it.

For instance, Ed Goldman's superb orchestra gave us the Bagley "National Emblem" march, rhythmic and stirring. They featured Master Del Staigers and his cornet. "On the Mall" ended Goldman's part in the broadcast. It was just enough to whet the appetite of listeners. We could have listened for an hour.

But others might not, so "Judge" Kelley came on with his Southern—Virginia, not Boston—dialect and mastered ceremonies. He introduced silvery voiced Marie Cahill. Warming up the croons was the Creole Sextet made up of the fair sex. Marie was assisted by the Hallelujah Quartet, but she needed little assistance. Gabriel was mentioned prominently and requested to stop blowing his horn.

If the man who sent squeals across our radio ever gets up before St. Claire he'll have to do more than blow his horn to get in. Someone with a regenerative set kept moving his dial all around, so some parts of the program sounded like a dry axle.

Were WBZ, Springfield, and WBZA, Boston, derailed? The same WBZ program could be heard in two places last night. The place where we normally pick up WBZA was loud. A little above it the same program could be heard weaker. Between the two was a dead spot.

Other strong broadcasters heard were: Camden, WCAM; Newark, WOR; New York, WJZ, WNYC; Atlantic City, WPG, and Hartford, WTIC. WTIC is badly smeared by WNYC, WCAC and KYW.

Anyone with ambition could have heard two dozen more. There was little static and all signals were strong. Below 250 meters there was not much.

We used a seven-tube Kellogg, No. 510, radio.

PREDICTS MUSSOLINI'S FALL WITHIN FIVE YEARS

New York, Nov. 15 (A.P.)—Collapse of Mussolini's government within five year because of its unsound financial foundation was predicted today by Dr. Vincenzo Nitti, son of a former Premier of Italy, who has arrived from Italy to lecture against Fascism. "Mussolini's government will fall of its own weight within five years," he said, "even without any assault upon it by the anti-Fascists.

HURLED THROUGH DOOR IN GASOLINE TANK BLAST

Brockton, Nov 15.—Hurled through a shop door following the explosion of a gasoline tank today, Leo Hamilton of Wall street narrowly missed City Assessor Edward J. Cormier in his forced flight, raced to a nearby fire box to give the alarm and woke up in the Brockton Hospital suffering from singed hair and burns on the face. Hamilton was soldering a leak in the empty tank, using a blow torch when the blast came.

RADIO IS BETTER WITH BATTERY POWER

More for your battery dollar

IT'S a mistake to buy a "B" battery merely because it is cheap. Such batteries soon give out and you have to buy new ones. When you buy the Eveready Layerbilt "B" Battery No. 486 your next battery purchase is a long way off—for Layerbilts will outlast any other Eveready, regardless of size—and every Eveready is famous for the long service it gives.

Eveready Layerbilts will supply pure, noiseless current for your radio set and give longer service for your money. That's because the Layerbilt is made by a patented, exclusive process. It is built up in layer construction that packs every available inch inside the case with active, electricity-producing materials. That is why it lasts so long. There's no question about it—the Layerbilt is the most economical battery you can buy. Back of every Eveready are the reputation and resources of the National Carbon Company, the largest electro-chemical battery organization in the world.

WILL SACRIFICE CITIZENSHIP TO WED CHINESE

Willing to give up her American citizenship by marrying an alien Chinese actor, which would bar her from this country, probably for life, a white woman applied at City Hall today with the Chinaman for a license to wed.

The actor has been in this country since 1925 and must leave in two months, under the immigration laws. Officials said that, if the woman becomes his wife, she must sail for China with him.

They were not allowed to file marriage intentions, because he could not satisfy marriage bureau officials that he had never been married before, but the whole matter was left open until Friday, while Federal authorities investigate.

Names were withheld, but Assistant United States District Attorney John W. Schenck explained the unusual circumstances of the case. The actor, who has been appearing in theatres in the Chinese districts of large cities, came here yesterday from San Francisco and the woman came also, according to Schenck. Department of Justice agents investigated and thus learned of the couple's intention to marry here, if possible.

TWO POLICEMEN ARE HIT BY AUTOS; STUDENT HELD

Two policemen struck by automobiles at widely divergent points were in City Hospital today while Edward C. Egan, twenty-three, Harvard student, of Dale avenue, was being arraigned in Municipal Court as the driver of one car. Egan was charged with operating dangerously, operating without a license and with having no registration in his possession at the time of an accident. Because Patrolman Michael Quinneven, struck in front of the Elks' Hotel, will be unable to appear in court for a week, the case was continued for that period. The other policeman struck down was Patrolman Charles Beauchaine of Fields Corner station. He was hit while directing traffic in Granite avenue, Dorchester. The driver fled.

WOMAN IS FINED $50 FOR SHOPLIFTING

Although denying to the end the charge against her, Mrs. May Carpenter of Gloucester street Arlington, was found guilty on a shoplifting charge today in municipal court. She was fined $50 on a charge that she stole a $9 dress from a department store.

Starts Smoking 50 Cigars in 12-Hour Medical Test

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 15 (A.P.)—In an experiment to determine the effect of tobacco on the human body, Vincent Maddi, student at the medical school of the University of Maryland, today began an attempt to smoke 50 cigars in 12 hours. The test is to be completed at 10 o'clock tonight if all goes well.

Two students observed and recorded physiological reactions.

First Lowell Airport Landing

Lowell, Nov. 15 (A.P.)—The first official landing at the new Lowell airport in the south part of the city was made today by Lieutenant R. D. Thomas, commandant of the naval air station at Squantum.

ENJOIN I. T. O. A. INSURANCE COMPANY

Temporary injunction preventing the Independent Taxi Owners' Mutual Insurance Co. from doing further business except the collecting of premiums due, was ordered to issue today by Supreme Court Justice Pierce.

But after the assistant Attorney General had secured the injunction he discovered he didn't know on whom to serve it. The injunction was issued against Irving L. Hollander, as manager of the mutual company, but Hollander, it is now learned, resigned some time ago.

The injunction was obtained by Asst. Atty. Gen. Roger Clapp and the order is returnable on Friday, at which time, Clapp said today, he will endeavor to secure a permanent injunction and appointment of a receiver.

"My parties became successes when I began to serve Lipton's Tea"

Says – Miss Alyce Dardis, Watertown, Mass.

And she adds—

"I had previously given several luncheons but they did not seem to be so successful. One day a friend whispered that it was the tea—and suggested I serve Lipton's. At my next party I did, and was well rewarded. Its flavor is so delicious."

YOU, too, will realize how much richer, mellower and fragrant Lipton's Tea is once you taste it. Here is the reason:

The Lipton Tea Estates produce the Finest Tea in the World, and have been awarded First Prize and Gold Medal in Ceylon and India for its quality and merit.

Sir Thomas Lipton's Tea is blended by experts and packed by means of the most up-to-date methods in his own factories.

That's why Lipton's Orange Pekoe Tea is the best obtainable.

Don't say to your grocer: "A quarter pound of tea, please"; say Lipton's! It costs no more.

WORK ON NEW NORTH STATION IS BEGUN

'Coolidge a Darling, Lindy a Wonder,' Says Ruth

WORK ON STATION STARTS

Work has begun on the comprehensive building program for the new North Station, a program that is to see the expenditure of $10,000,000 before it is concluded, Homer Loring, chairman of the Boston & Maine railroad, announces.

The station waiting room, it is announced, will have two-thirds more seats than the Grand Central Terminal in New York. The seating capacity of the coliseum will be 18,500, equal to that of Madison Square Garden in New York, and will afford Boston a splendid building for entertaining conventions.

The coliseum will be leased by the railroad to an operating group including Charles F. Adams and H. R. (Tacks) Hardwick, who will have as associates Tex Rickard Colonel John S Hammond and W. F. Carey.

The floor surface of the coliseum will be 250 feet long and 125 feet wide. Rickard asserts that with ice making equipment which will freeze ice in four hours and remove it in fifty-five minutes, it will be possible to stage skating sessions in the morning, conduct a track meet in the afternoon and have boxing matches or dancing in the evening. The coliseum section will be ninety feet high. It is expected it will be ready to open next November.

The new North Station group will form a 700-foot monumental frontage on Causeway street. This street, with a setback to be aranged by the Boston & Maine on railroad property, will be widened to 110 feet. The western limit of the group will be the million dollar Northern thoroughfore. The eastern limits will be the site of the old Fitchburg station on Beverly street, now being dismantled. It will mark a further step along the lines of complete utilization of railroad terminal property, similar to the New York Central's Grand Central building program in New York.

As an initial appropriation, the Boston and Maine is spending $1,100 000 on the preliminary stages of construction. The first phase of the building program will embrace the station and coliseum, to cost more than $4,000,000 all told. Construction of the hotel and of the office building and distributing terminal are announced as the second phase, to be entered upon as soon as certain details of enabling legislation are completed.

THIS GIRL'S A COOK "THAT IS A COOK"

Miss Marjorie Armstrong, a sophomore in the South Braintree High School, began sewing when she was 10 and cooking at 13, and was a teacher in these subjects before she entered high school. She has been chosen to represent Massachusetts at the National Boys and Girls Four H Congress in Chicago this month.

PLANS TO MAKE HUB BIG WILD ANIMAL PORT

Boston promises to become one of the leading ports in the world for the importation of wild animals, if given adequate shipping facilities, according to John T. Benson, New England agent for Hagenbeck Brothers Company of Hamburg, Germany, with headquarters at Hudson, N. H.

"Experience has taught us," said Benson, "that shipping jungle specimens from Australia, Africa, India and other distant ports direct to Boston is more practical and economical in the long run than landing them first in European ports and relaying them to this country.

"Under the old system, in vogue for years, time and money was lost in that it was necessary to send to Hamburg for certificates to meet Federal requirements in the United States governing the landing of wild animals. By landing them here direct local authorities can pass at once on the fitness of animals.

CLIMATE HERE IDEAL.

"Wild animal shipments to Boston have steadily increased until Boston has developed into a dangerous rival of New York and can easily surpass it. I hope and trust that steamship facilities at this port will make it possible further to increase this business.

"No climate in the world is better suited for the care of wild animals than right here in New England. That is why I choose a place among the hills of New Hampshire at Hudson, just outside of Nashua, for my wild animal farm, from which we ship specimens all over the country.

"A large shipment of camels from Russia will reach my farm next week.

They'll Be Aflying Across Atlantic Next Summer

Washington, Nov. 15 (I.N.S.). "Transoceanic flying will be as common next Summer as swimming the English Channel," W. P. McCracken, air secretary of the Department of Commerce, said here today.

McCracken conferred with all the transoceanic fliers who were in Washington for the President's luncheon, and said that all of them are planning new conquests of the air next Summer.

TROTZKY ALIVE, SAYS MOSCOW

London, Nov. 15 (I N S).—Dispatches received here today from the International News Service correspondent in Moscow said Trotsky was still living in the Kremlin and gave no indication of any atempt on his life.

Moscow, Nov. 15 (A P.).—Publication of the official decree dealing with the opposition shows that only Leon Trotzky and Gregory Zinovieff were expelled outright from the Communist party, while lesser luminaries suffered the loss of various posts.

SOCIETY WOMEN TURN OUT FOR BIG BAZAAR

Society turned out today for the annual fair of the Women's Auxiliary of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals at the Angell Memorial Hospital, Longwood avenue, Roxbury.

Patronesses were Mrs. Charles M Baker, Framingham, Mrs. Alinah Neyhart, Framingham; Mrs. William E. Pretty booths and tables occupied the entire second floor of the hospital. One of the most tastefully decorated was the Readville table, conducted by Miss Dorothy Murfitt, Mrs. G. F. Shepard, Miss Frances Kennedy, Miss Josephine Smith, Smith, Miss M. S. Murfitt and Mrs. Mary M. Richmond.

Mrs. Charles F. Rowley was chairman of the Candy table, assisted by Miss Alice Rowley, Mrs. Esmond Rowley, Mrs. John Tyler and Mrs. Francis H. Rowley.

Bridge was a part of the afternoon's entertainment. Mrs. E. L. Klahre, first vice-president of the auxiliary, was chairman, and other members of this committee were Mrs. Lucius Cummings and Mrs. L. H. Woods.

Officers of the auxiliary are Mrs. Edith Washburn Clarke, president Mrs. Klahre, first vice-president Mrs. Lucius Cummings, second vice-president; Mrs. A. J Forbush, treasurer, and Miss Helen Potter, secretary.

'LONE EAGLE' INSPIRED HER TRY TO CROSS ATLANTIC

By Ruth Elder

(Copyright, 1927, by the Boston Evening American and the New York Daily Mirror)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 15—I am the happiest girl in the world. I have met my two heroes—President Coolidge and Colonel Lindbergh. The President is a darling and Lindy is a wonder.

Six months ago, down in my little old home town, I had such dreams that some day I might walk into the White House and meet the Chief Executive of the United States.

And more than my dreams came true. I met that retiring youth who found for aviation its place in the sky, the boy whom all the world calls Lindy. My co-pilot, George Haldeman was as happy as I was.

The months have flown by so quickly since first I made plans to try to fly the Atlantic, that it all still seems a wonderful dream.

I was working in an office down in Lakeland, Florida, when Colonel Lindbergh made his remarkable flight from New York to Paris.

It wasn't necessary that I work in an office, as my husband more than wonderfully provided for me. But I always wanted to do something. All my life I dreamed of going out into the business world and really accomplishing something.

INSPIRED BY LINDY

My small town existence never discouraged me. In fact, it lent additional encouragement to try to rise above my limited opportunities. Even before the news of Colonel Lindbergh's flight thrilled the world, I had taken lessons in flying. On week ends I spent my savings in taking aviation lessons.

Even in my first flight I knew instantly I had found the type of work I loved and since those days I have learned that to succeed in flying one must love the game.

And on that memorable night Colonel Lindbergh landed at Le Bourget more than ever my ambitions to accomplish something worth while were crystallized into one.

I knew I would never be happy until I had flown the Atlantic. And because I have not succeeded in entirely crossing the ocean from New York to Paris, that is why Captain George Haldeman and I will try it again next year.

I have shaken hands with the most remarkable flier of our time, who inspired me to make my flight. I wanted to tell him so and thank him, but I thought it might be just a little out of place.

Strangely enough, President Coolidge and Colonel Lindbergh are akin in many ways. Both have [illegible] poise. Their reticence, their modesty is a thing of charm.

WITH HEROES OF SKY

What examples they are for America.

During luncheon in the White House I sat on President Coolidge's right and Clarence Chamberlin sat on his left. Colonel Lindbergh sat to the right of Mrs. Coolidge who was seated opposite the President.

About the table were Commander Byrd, Captain Brock, Schlee, Goebel, Levine, Lieutenant Hegenberger and other intrepid fliers, who have flown the Pacific and Atlantic oceans.

How happy I was to be there among the little group of fearless men who had led the way over uncharted kingdoms in the skies.

I felt my ambition to leave my little home town and go out into the world in attempt to attain a goal had not been in vain.

Suddenly I realized what a wonderful opportunity there is for every girl in our glorious country, whether she is from a one-horse town or a big city.

The chances are the same for every girl if she will only try—try with all her might and not be afraid to work and make sacrifices.

Our people, the most democratic in the world, are willing to recog-

Death Rate From Cancer Higher in Foreign Born

Foreign born and the children of foreign born in Massachusetts have a higher cancer mortality rate than native born or the children of native born.

Dr. Herbert L. Lombard, head of the cancer section of the public health department, and Dr. Carl R. Doering, assistant professor of vital statistics, Harvard School of Public Health, are in agreement in this conclusion after a special study of more than a year. It is the first study of its kind ever made in this State.

The study shows the adjusted death rate for cancer among the foreign born is 137 a hundred thousand of population; among persons both of whose parents were foreign born, 160; with one foreign born, 141; the rate of native born with native parents was 85. The cancer records for a 5-year period were used in the study.

An important conclusion also reached is that the disease is not contagious.

READ THIS FIRST

SALLY JEROME, 20, is the mainstay of her family. Her father had deserted his wife and his children. Besides Sally there are the twins, BEAU and MILLIE, aged 21. Millie, the family beauty, is always losing jobs when her employers "get gay" with her.

Sally works at home in the mornings, for her mother is a semi-invalid. In the afternoons she works for MR. PEEVEY, an elderly eccentric, who does a small mail-order business in Chauncy street. TED SLOAN, who lives with his mother in the flat below the Jerome flat in Hemenway street, is a "dancing fool," and Sally has become very friendly with him. But when he tries to make love to her she pulls him up short.

Red Sox to Train in Florida Next Spring

The Red Sox will have a new training camp next Spring. Instead of going to New Orleans, as they have for the past two years, the Sox will journey to Bradenton, Fla. This decision was made today after a telegram from the Chamber of Commerce that all was well in Bradenton was received by Secretary Jim Price.

This will give the Hub team a chance to play with other major league clubs, the majority of which are now using Florida as their conditioning grounds. The Cardinals and Phillies have trained at Bradenton and found the weather and conditions ideal.

BOSTON HOTELS BOOKED UP FOR BIG GAME

Record breaking reservations have been made in Boston hotels for the Harvard-Yale game. For the first time in its history, according to a survey made by the Boston Evening American today, Boston hotels will be able to take care of visiting football fans.

There were only two hotels in the city today with rooms available, and it was expected by night these would be gone. The Statler has been sold out for three weeks, and the management has gone out as far as Brookline to obtain accommodations for its patrons. This house plans to open its main dining room for dinner dancing on Saturday night, and there will be three orchestras playing in different parts of the hotel for dancing.

AL MARSTERS GAINED MORE THAN MILE

Hanover, N. H., Nov. 15 (A.P.)—Al Marsters gained more than a mile of ground for Dartmouths' Big Green football team this year.

The flashy young sophomore from Arlington, Mass., playing his first year of intercollegiate football as running mate in the Hanover backfield to Myles Lane, 1927 high scoring ace of the East, covered a total of 1,934 yards of enemy territory in the eight games of the season.

Eight hours of digging through the official athletic council records here showed that Marsters ran back thirty-six kicks for a total of 564 yards, carried the ball 105 times from scrimmage for a distance 709¼ yards, threw thirty-four successful forward passes for a total of 462 yards and covered 139 yards himself on the receiving end of [illegible] Green's aerial thrusts.

Translated differently, he averaged 15 2-3 yards every time he ran back a kick, and averaged 6 4-5 yards per play from scrimmage, or 8¾ yards a game.

His most spectacular return of a kick was one of sixty-five yards for a touchdown in the season's finale with Cornell here Saturday. His longest run of the season was in the same game, when he took a lateral pass from Hamm on a Cornell kickoff and twisted through the entire Red and White team for eighty five yards and a touchdown.

His greatest day of ground gaining from scrimmage was against Harvard when he turned in a total of 17[illegible] 1 2 yards on wide end sweeps and off tackle thrusts.

FORD, at the end of His Hardest Year, says:
"NAPOLEON Was An Old Fool!"

"NAPOLEON kept at the war game one battle too long, and they got him," added Ford, in one of the talks which form the basis of the most interesting study of this interesting man ever published. It is an analysis of his personality by Allan L. Benson, the journalist whom Ford knows better and trusts more than any other writer.

Naturally, at a time so important in Ford's life—just as he puts his new car on the market and enters a financial battle such as no man ever entered before—all that he says is of such moment that it must be directed to the most intelligent and the most alert audience possible.

And, also naturally, Mr. Ford and Mr. Benson selected COSMOPOLITAN as the means of reaching that audience, because COSMOPOLITAN is a class magazine which sells more than a million and a half copies per month; sells them to more than a million and a half readers who have the highest average reading taste of any group of readers in the world.

The Left Hand of God
by
FANNIE HURST

HERE is a short story built on a theme so far from the beaten path that when Miss Hurst first submitted the idea in synopsis form, the editor of COSMOPOLITAN wrote to her: "I do not believe you or any writer could tell this story so that it could be published."

Nevertheless, Miss Hurst proceeded with the story, and when the editor read the completed manuscript, he wrote: "I must amend my original letter. I do not believe any other living writer could have told this story so that it could be published. You have done it, and in doing it, you have made it one of the most poignantly beautiful stories it ever has been my good fortune to read."

The Last Voyage of Odysseus
by
JOHN ERSKINE

YOU may have believed Plato's story of what happened when Odysseus returned from Troy, killed the suitors of his supposed widow, and resumed his place at the head of the household. Or, you may have believed the version that Homer gave which indicated that Penelope was in love with one of her suitors, and that her husband's return interfered with the romance.

John Erskine, who has delved so delightfully into the private lives of Helen of Troy and of Galahad, and who has told us what really happened in the Garden of Eden, has a version all his own. And what a version! It makes one of the most amusing—and perhaps one of the most instructive—stories any magazine ever published.

BRITISH MAY QUIT OLYMPICS

England Frowns on Practice of Paying Soccer Players for "Broken Time"

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Sports Editor

New York, Nov. 15.—Complete withdrawal of all of Great Britain's athletic teams from the Olympic games at Amsterdam some six months hence was a strong possibility today, according to advices received from London.

The Britain, it seems, have become [illegible] opposed to the practice, in vogue on the other side, of payment of sums of money to competing soccer players for so called "broken time" during the games and are inclined to make their withdrawal stand as an official expression of their displeasure.

The official view, as expressed by the British Olympic Association today, was that the status of their own athletes would be effected by competition with Europeans who, in the opinion of the English, were professionalizing themselves and that possibly they would not be justified in engaging in such an association. This view was expressed upon receipt of information from Lausanne that the executive committee of the International Olympic Association had voted to continue the policy of permitting "broken time" payments during the next games.

That the British threat is no idle one may be judged from the fact that the English soccer football team was withdrawn from the 1924 games in Paris. However, to a man on a [illegible], it would appear that the withdrawing of an entire entry list just because your soccer men may feel themselves contaminated by association with "broken time" amateurs is going rather far and possibly the British will come to feel that way about it before the mobilization at Amsterdam begins.

If they did decide to turn up absent, it would mean that the United States would be the only English-speaking team at the games, unless Canada, Australia and South America decided to go it alone. It also would mean that three defending champions, Harold Abrahams in the 100 metre dash, Eric Liddell in the 400 metre run and Douglas Lowe in the 800 metre event, would not be among those present, to say nothing of Stuart, star middle distancer, and Lord Burghley, a leading hurdler.

In brief, a British withdrawal, in part or in toto, is not desirable from any standpoint and, therefore, it is to be assumed that it will not be permitted to occur.

The plan, at that, has its points but, as the fellow said, so has a barbed wire fence. Anyhow, it helps to take care of the families of artisans and others whose wages stop automatically when the husband and father hies him away to the field of honor, or something.

"Cav" Says:

Corrigan's 50-Yard Punt From Behind Goal Line in Holy Cross Game Put New Life in B. C. in 1919 Battle

By MAJOR FRANK W. CAVANAUGH,
Head Football Coach at Fordham University.

Football history is studded with tales of men who, by some remarkable deed, have enshrined their names in football lovers' hearts for all time.

Oddly enough the heroes of football are usually [illegible] whose play, though consistent, is never startling and yet, [illegible] some one play or series of plays, their names are written high on football's scroll of fame.

In 1919 when I was coaching at Boston College, in the Georgetown game—the second last game of the season—our star halfback and punter was badly injured.

He was clipped after the whistle had blown and though the Washington team was set back for it, the penalty did not aid in putting Fitzy back on his feet.

During the week that followed we made strenuous efforts to develop some one to take the injured man's place.

It was finally decided that Corrigan, who had been on the quarterback squad, would be used at halfback for the Holy Cross game—the most important on our schedule.

IT was with considerable trepidation that we entered the contest, for most of our strategy [illegible] centered around plays run from punt formations, with Fitzpatrick, one of the best kickers in the East, as the [illegible].

It had been raining for several days before the game and the field was in [illegible] condition. Before the first play of the game was over, players' uniforms were caked [illegible].

About the middle of the first quarter Holy Cross kicked to our two-yard mark about a yard inside the playing field. If ever a situation called for a great punt, that one did.

The ball would have to be kicked from behind our goal line and it was so close to the sideline that the guard, tackle and end on that side of the line had to go to the other side of the ball.

Corrigan stepped back and I almost closed my eyes. I heard the [illegible] of the [illegible] and looked up to see one of the most perfect punts ever made on a football field.

The ball zoomed up the sideline, [illegible] a perfect spiral with enough height to allow time for the speediest of ends to get up the field. The [illegible] Smith of Holy Cross caught the ball, he was dropped in his tracks.

THAT play was the break of the game. [illegible] on the Worcester [illegible] back [illegible]. They [illegible] how are you [illegible] to beat a team that loses a kicker like Fitzpatrick and has [illegible] in [illegible].

MR. BOSTON

By Jack Conway

"THERE will be 55,000 persons jammed into the Stadium when Harvard and Yale battle in their annual game on Saturday," remarked Mr. Boston today as he looked up the telephone number of Arnold Horween to remind him about getting those two ducats. "There would be as many more people on hand if there was the seating capacity," resumed the veteran. "Which proves that football has a greater hold on the American public than bridge whist or the habit of coming in late at the opera.

"The football experts, mostly dignified young men who are well saturated with the kind of college culture one finds around the sidelines, are unanimous in picking Yale to win. They agree that Old Eli has one of the most powerful teams in its history and that it will roll up a huge score against the Crimson.

"There are those among the experts who figure that Yale will win by as large a score as 40 to 0.

"Despite all this, there will be a frantic drive for tickets all week. The well-known public wishes to be there when it all happens.

"I have been making a study of the crowds that attend football games. I thought I might be able to pick up some valuable information which would assist Tex Rickard in making a few more millions.

"The crowd at the Yale-Princeton game last week reminded me of a rather large family—there was some 80,000 of them there—who had trouped home for a Thanksgiving Day or Christmas celebration.

"Everybody was dressed in his best and very happy. As I came out of the railroad station at New Haven I saw 300 or 400 students waiting for members of their family who were coming in for the game on special trains.

"When one of these youngsters would spot mother, dad, sister, brother or a blushing little sweetheart he would let out a whoop and do a Charley Paddock to where the new arrivals were.

"I FIND that the football game itself is secondary to the reunion and social end of the celebration. Of course everybody likes to see his favorite college win, but if fortune smiles on the other team the defeat is forgotten in the after-the-game parties and jollifications.

"I am beginning to think that the coaches and experts are the only ones who take the gridiron game seriously. They still believe that the future of democracy depends upon whether Whosit College wallops its ancient rival.

"It is fortunate for the general good that the boys and girls ranging in ages from 16 to 80, who attend the college pastimes do not take the game so seriously. They figure that a Harvard-Yale contest is a fine time to hold a family reunion and lighten the cares of business by a few socials.

"THE spirit of the youngsters who battle for dear old Alma Mater is remarkable. Think of these kids drawing gates of over $1,000,000 and then giving everything they have for a few cheers. I have known boys to burst into tears when the coach didn't give them an opportunity to get a few ribs busted.

"The professional athletes will never be able to understand the spirit of our college football heroes.

"I find that in later life the heroes of the gridiron hustle into their battles in business with the same reckless abandon they displayed in football. They don't choke up and quit because things look a little bit tough.

"I presume that quite a percentage of those who will see Harvard and Yale play Saturday won't know what it is all about. But they will be out in the fresh air dolled up in their finest and, if the weather is clear, they will have a perfect day even though they won't know the difference between a lateral pass and the line of scrimmage.

Resumes Relations With B. U. Terriers

Boston University and Boston College will resume football relations after a lapse of [illegible] years, the Terriers and the Eagles [illegible] battle at Braves Field, October 27, 1928.

This announcement was made public when the Boston [illegible] Athletic Committee made the Terriers' schedule for next year public.

Boston College takes the place of Tufts. A strong rivalry has developed between the Back Bay institution and the Medford College, but the two colleges could not come to an agreement for next year.

3 BIG GAMES FOR 'PERES'

After playing the New York Giants at Fenway Park, Saturday, the Pere Marquette football team will journey to Peabody Sunday to meet the strong University of Peabody eleven. The North Shore team has lost but one game this season. A special train leaving the North Station at 12.30 will carry 1,000 South Boston fans to the game.

On Thanksgiving afternoon Pere Marquette will play its annual game at Fenway Park with the Fittons of East Boston. The Fitton fans are pulling hard for a victory over the "Caseys," who up to the present time are undefeated and unscored on.

Recipes Sent In by Readers of Page

OUR exchange box is so full to overflowing with tried and true recipes that it is hard to know which to choose to share with you today.

Mrs. Margaret J. Goddard, 108 Concord street, Somerville, has sent some especially fine ones. Just try her Inland Lobster Salad and cast your vote with me.

INLAND LOBSTER SALAD—Cook 3-lb. haddock in boiling salted water. Flake fish when cooked and mix with two pimentos which have been cut in narrow strips and then smaller pieces, ½ cup picked horseradish and set in ice box [illegible] fish may absorb some of color of pimentos. Arrange on lettuce leaves and serve with mayonnaise and stuffed olives.

Her Butterscotch Pie and Brown Sugar Macaroons are distinctly different, too.

BUTTERSCOTCH PIE—Cook 1 cup of brown sugar with 2 tbsps. of water until syrup is formed. Blend 5 tbsps. (slightly heaped) flour with ½ cup of milk, add [illegible] egg yolks slightly beaten and 1½ cups more milk. Stir this mixture into the hot syrup and [illegible] thickened. Add ½ tsp. vanilla and [illegible] tbsps. butter just before [illegible] from fire. Pour into [illegible] cover with meringue and [illegible]

BROWN SUGAR MACAROONS—Beat the whites of 2 eggs stiff, add slowly 2 cups of light brown sugar sifted, ¼ tsp. salt, 1 cup chopped nuts. Beat thoroughly [illegible] half tsp. on a [illegible] tin, 2 or 3 inches apart. Bake slowly 40 to 45 minutes.

And here is her recipe for Danish Custard, which turns out exactly [illegible] favorite hotel.

DANISH CUSTARD—Two-thirds cup of sugar caramelized, ¼ cup [illegible] formed, then [illegible] [illegible] of hot water and [illegible] [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] Boston street, [illegible]

[illegible] SWEET POTATOES [illegible] sweet potatoes [illegible] spread [illegible] of a cup of brown sugar [illegible] of water and one tsp. of salt. Bake until tender.

Won't you send [illegible] recipes to exchange with [illegible] readers of this page?

Respectfully yours,
MARTHA LEE.

Preventing Infection

By Chas. A. L. Reed, M. D.,
Former President of the American Medical Association.

YOUR child may be at boarding school. If not, some neighbor's child is surely at one of these useful establishments. Such a neighbor's child, contracting an infectious disease at a boarding school, may become an innocent carrier of the infection back into the home neighborhood. I say this not because the thing is more liable to happen in a boarding school than elsewhere where large numbers of children are [illegible]. On the contrary, I am [illegible] that boarding schools very [illegible] are far above the average [illegible] of homes and public schools in safeguarding children against infection.

This question has been gone into very carefully by Dr. Simey, who is the medical officer to the famous Rugby School in England. He gave particular attention to scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles, German measles, mumps and whooping cough.

Since a small number of scarlet fever convalescents never become entirely harmless, but retain the germ in their throats to flare up after a long interval when they get a cold, a possible precaution might be to inoculate them with an autogenous vaccine, taken from their throats when convalescence begins.

In diphtheria the existing rules, however exasperating, should be observed, even if the germ—the so-called Klebs-Loeffler bacillus—be shown not to be virulent.

German measles is sometimes difficult to diagnose from measles, scarlet fever and a number of other non-infectious rashes, but once the diagnosis is certain a boy should not be kept away from his work if he is physically fit. Boys suffering from chicken pox are nearly always detained too long, and the following rules give sufficient margin of safety:

Chicken pox patients are safe provided they have plenty of open air, soap and hot baths, when they are clinically and aesthetically fit, so long as care is taken not to overlook the presence of enlarged glands.

The author considers that the usual sanitary rules concerning mumps and whooping cough should be followed, as he has more respect for both of these infections than most laymen have. The actual period of infectivity of whooping cough is probably short, however, and limited to the catarrhal stage.

She jumped down from the model's stand and ran to look at his drawing. To her it seemed wonderful indeed that anyone could catch her likeness with a just a few strokes.

But as she peered at it, he caught the coarse, fibrous paper in his fist, and suddenly crumpled it into a ba[illegible]

"No, it isn't Ann, and you have not any right to say anything against her," Georgie protested, her loyalty coming to the fore.

"Well, what is it then?"

"Because I couldn't do a thing like that. I'm not that kind. I don't see how you could think I was."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean going out there like that with you—and—and not marrying you."

"[illegible] I say anything about not marrying you [illegible]"

[illegible]

"And [illegible] you really want to marry me?"

"I said so, didn't I?"

Georgie's glance swept around the bare walls of the studio once more, passed along the canvases with their frames to the wall, to the palette with its scars of crimson and green, the tall easel, the tattered shade that hung over the skylight.

There was nothing luxurious to be seen. Probably Ernest Brooks wasn't half as well off as he pretended to be. Probably he spent money lavishly in restaurants and theatres, and let bills and obligations go where they wished.

But to be an artist's wife, to meet interesting people, to live in a whirl of excitement and strangeness—that was something. It was much.

"I don't know what to say," she faltered.

"Don't you love me?"

"Not yet."

He laughed suddenly. "I'll make you love me. You'll be astonished how much! And we'll go to Italy next month—next week, if necessary. But there's one condition."

"What's that?"

"I want to shock your sister. And I want to test you. You and I will go to Italy and marry after we get there."

"What do you mean?"

"Just what I say. I want your sister to revel in moral platitudes. And I want to test how much you like me. If you'll do that, we'll start—whenever you say."

"But—but that's impossible."

"Think it over—let me know tomorrow," he answered coolly.

She was moving towards the door. He wasn't trying to stop her. The Japanese servant let her out in silence.

'Sally's Shoulders'; She Sees a Tall, Dark Young Man

[illegible] Mr. Peevey [illegible]

After [illegible] woman to cry out [illegible] that she had forgotten Mr. Peevey's milk and Sally began to [illegible] with him. The elevator boy [illegible]

"Take me downstairs again," Sally said to him after a minute, but her eyes were on the other man.

[illegible] "Thanks, but I won't need you. I can go right downstairs and get what I want," she said vaguely.

The elevator door closed slowly after him as he stepped out, shutting him away from her. But her vision of him stayed in her mind's eye all the way to the Summer street shop two blocks away where she bought Mr. Peevey's milk.

"You're late!" Mr. Peevey snapped out at her ten minutes later when she came rushing into his office flushed with the heat.

"I am, and I'm just as sorry as I can be!" Sally answered him breathlessly. But she didn't look the least bit sorry, and she hummed softly to herself as she took the electric stove from the top of the filing case and opened the tin biscuit box.

"Don't do that. I don't want to eat now. Got a date with the dentist for two-thirty," Mr. Peevey said crossly, pulling his big turnip of a watch from his pocket. "Be back here at two sharp. Have my lunch ready for me then!"

He clapped an antique Panama hat upon his head and hurried out, bouncing along on his rubber heels.

The office was hot and stuffy, and as soon as he was gone Sally flung open the door that led into the outer hall.

"Whew!" she said, dropping down behind her desk and patting her face with her damp handkerchief.

It was then that she first noticed that the office across the hall had been rented at last. The door stood open, and upon the ground glass pane was some gold-and-black lettering.

Sally got up and walked out into the hall to take a look at it.

"JOHN NYE REAL ESTATE," it read briefly and simply.

Beyond the door the office was simply furnished with plain brown mahogany and a fawn colored rug. There was no one in it.

But as she stood there gazing into the room, an inner door swung open [illegible] man of the package and looked down at it [illegible]

[illegible] she worked Sally [illegible] Mr. Peevey's office [illegible] but none of [illegible] matched.

[illegible] girls who work in offices, Sally would [illegible] of pride [illegible] the hall.

The door of it still stood open and Sally could see her [illegible] elevator standing at the window gazing down into the busy street below. His feet were wide apart and his hands thrust into his pockets.

He was whistling softly, and Sally cocked an ear to listen.

"High [illegible]

"Up on the hill—"

She smiled to herself as she recognized the little tune.... She wondered if he were thinking of a green and sunny hilltop with the wind ruffling the long grass, making it shimmer like silver. She wondered if there were some girl in his life who went [illegible] the open country sometimes.... who sat on hilltops with him....

The sound of tapping heels came from the hall and suddenly a figure all in pale summery green [illegible] into the little room. Millie.

"[illegible]" she [illegible], and came and sat on the corner of her sister's desk, swinging her long silk-sheathed legs gracefully. The air in the office [illegible] became sweet and heavy with the strong scent of the perfume she used.

"What a dump this is!" she went on, taking in the furnishings with scornful eyes. "I didn't know they had offices like this any more—And what on earth is this for?" She gave the electric stove a push with one highly manicured finger.

"That's where I heat Mr. Peevey's milk for him," Sally answered blandly. "He has a weak stomach and I always fix a little lunch for him at noon."

Millie giggled. A soft giggle that had a sharp edge to it, somehow or other.

"Well, you ARE a simp!" she said. "If anybody asked ME to do a thing like that, I'd be right there with a hard-eyed stare and a cold turn-down. What does your Mr. Peevish think he's getting for $30 a week—a cook and a waitress, as well as a stenographer?"

Without waiting for a reply she went on in her soft lazy drawl.

"I quit my own job fifteen minutes ago. Just put on my hat and walked out of that place."

She took a cigarette from a paper [illegible] what happened [illegible] They [illegible] Millie was saying [illegible] was going [illegible] didn't I? [illegible] to make love to [illegible] myself."

[illegible] Millie was an open invitation for [illegible] with her. The [illegible] that she were [illegible] about her [illegible] clothes [illegible] swells and [illegible] figure. The [illegible] the darkened [illegible] lips that were [illegible] The flirta[illegible] slowly [illegible] they were for [illegible] excitement. [illegible] on the [illegible] where the tall [illegible] standing with [illegible] gazing [illegible] him. [illegible] at him he [illegible] for a [illegible] into the inner office. The heavy door of it swung to behind his tall figure.

"Who's the sleek-haired sheik?" asked Millie, getting up from the desk and swaying on her [illegible] heels.

"I never saw him until today," her sister answered with perfect truth. "I think he's just moved in—"

Her voice trailed off into silence and her blue eyes widened with [illegible] that had something close to fear in it. It came to her in a flash that Millie was going to cross the hall to that office and ask for a [illegible] there.

"She can't do it!" she said to herself. "I won't let her do it!"

Tomorrow—Sally meets with an accident; also a young man.

"You Said It, Marceline"

By MARCELINE D'ALROY.

SOME girls say they have SEEN so MUCH of MEN that
They are AFRAID to MARRY. Well, REALLY!
They DESERVE to be SINGLE;
Probably no MAN will ever
Think as MUCH of them as
THEY think of THEMSELVES.
The trouble with MOST people
Is that they ASK too much
Of EACH OTHER. A WOMAN puts
Her arms around her FIANCE'S
NECK and, figuratively,
Says: "I LOVE you. Now, make me
HAPPY." She then takes
Her ARMS away, but
Leaves this CHAIN of all her
Future WELFARE hanging round
HIS shoulders.
And MEN are as bad. THEY Say: "I LOVE you. Now
STOP doing this and that."
Always RESTRICTIONS. Barriers
BUILT around the LOVED one.
Of course, ALL for LOVE.
MEN and WOMEN should NOT
Invest ALL their HAPPINESS in
ONE other PERSON.
WHY should we SUPPOSE that
ANOTHER will be able to Do for US what WE have FAILED to do for OURSELVES?

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for only 75 cents. It is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Little Betty Anemic?—

Shake Up Health!

IF your daughter or son is pale and thin it is because of too few red blood corpuscles.

Foods rich in iron make red blood corpuscles. And of all creations blessed by Nature with an abundance of iron, few excel malt. It's a veritable reservoir of iron . . . and energy!

Add Loft Chocolate Flavor Sweetened Malted Milk to your child's diet and you'll see its little cheeks bloom with the flush of health. The iron in the malt will multiply the red blood corpuscles like the school teacher pyramids figures. And while the malt does that the milk will build firmly-knit bones, sound, dazzling teeth and muscle, nerve and brain force. For malt and milk are the world's prize health team!

Of course, little Betty will love this drink because of its unrivalled deliciousness — no childish palate rebels against it!

Get a tin today at your grocer's. Mix—and shake (takes only a few seconds) as directed. Then serve. But one word of caution—be sure and get Loft's and not just a chocolate-powder concoction; for you want food values—iron and lime and vitamins—and it's Loft Chocolate Flavor Sweetened Malted Milk that contains them.

Make this experiment— just once

Eat a slice of White Rose Bread without butter and compare its flavor with any other loaf—baker's or homemade.

Ordinary baking methods were discarded in baking White Rose Bread. A group of the greatest authorities on food and cooking in America joined their skill with that of the country's leading bakers.

They have aimed to give you a richer, more satisfying loaf than you have ever been able to buy before. They have used almost twice as much milk as many recipes call for — the finest shortening that can be bought, sugar of the very grade you use for table service.

Then this loaf is "slow-baked" to give it the character of the finest homemade bread.

Get a loaf of White Rose Bread from your grocer today — and notice the difference!

WHAT DID I DO NOW?
HELLO DOCTOR. COME OVER RIGHT AWAY. I WANT YOU TO DO SOMETHING FOR ME. I'LL TELL YOU WHEN YOU GET HERE.
11-15
YES. YOU MUST GIVE UP SMOKING IMMEDIATELY. NOT ONE CIGAR. NOW COME OVER TO MY OFFICE. I'LL FIX UP SOME MEDICINE FOR YOU.
JUST AS YOU SAY DOC
WHAT DO I OWE YOU. DOC? YOU SAVED MY LIFE. IF I HAD TO SMOKE THOSE CIGARS THAT MAGGIE BOUGHT FOR ME. I'D BE IN A HOSPITAL.
THAT'S ALL RIGHT. BUT TO BE SERIOUS YOU MUST GIVE UP SMOKING.

FRISBY'S SIMPLE PLAN SOLVES ANOTHER WORRY

Mr. and Mrs. Cuticura Doakes, who will tour the auto camps of America on behalf of the Frisby-for Vice-President campaign. They will collect tin cans to be melted into Frisby badges.

By MISTER FRISBY

Congressman-at-Large

WASHINGTON—Last night I sat up past 9 o'clock working on my bill to promote justice.

In a word, I provide that the government present each juror with an automobile (with a long wheel-base) before each and every trial.

This will do away with misunderstandings, such as developed in the lamentable Fall-Sinclair mistrial.

To eliminate the necessity of defendants hiring detectives to follow jurors, it is my plan to have the law altered so only friends and relatives of defendants be eligible for jury service. Maybe I'll go further and restrict juries to the immediate families of defendants.

Tomorrow I shall discuss my companionate marriage bill. Bring the kiddies.

Companionate marriage
Is still taboo and nix,
But many married gals now have
Companion five or six.
—W. M. W.

Anyway, Mr. Kidwell of Washington, D. C., won't be bothered by automobile salesmen for a while.

After hearing the testimony, Mr. Kidwell probably felt he ought to take an automobile as a patriotic duty.

• • •

Hendrick Van Loon is trying an experimental marriage. He phones his wife once a week, and "if she has no other engagement we go out for dinner together."

It's all right, probably, except for the weekly dinner part of it.

THE MEDITATIONS OF A WIFE---BY HELEN ROWLAND

THE only thing a woman wants after she has all the money, clothes and admiration she needs, is —more!

Give a man plenty of rope—and he'll use it to get all tangled up with another woman.

When they are silent and pensive, a woman is thinking of the last man who kissed her—a man, of the next woman he is hoping to kiss.

A man doesn't need to understand a woman. He needs onlyl to love her enough and she will do the "understanding" for both of them.

A married man spends most of his time in trying to escape from a woman; a bachelor, in trying to escape from himsesif and a lot of women.

When a girl marries, half her friends clap their hands and the other half shake their heads; when she gets a divorce, they simply change sides.

One reason why a man seems to be able to get through so much more work in a day than a woman does it probably because he doesn't spend half of it in wondering if some other man is fatter than he is.

Somehow it is far easier for a man to be faithful to a woman who makes him suffer than it is to be faithful to one who makes him happy.

A girl rushes into marriage with a man who can dance gracefully, kiss effectively and fold her evening wrap around her tenderly, and then awakens to discover that what she needs is one who can put on a tire, splice a wire, trim the vines and make the vacuum cleaner work.

• • •

Marriage "humanizes" a woman, but somehow it sort of de-natures a man.

MEDBURY SAYS---

By JOHN P. MEDBURY

LAWLESSNESS is getting worse in this country every day and crimes are being committed quicker than the mail order detectives can be graduated from the correspondence schools.

ONE ambitious sleuth was worried to death. Hewas afraid all the crooks would be in jail before he got his diploma.

HE wanted to trail a man the other morning, but the mail order house hadn't sent his rubber heels.

THERE wasn't a bit of nickel polish in the house and he hated to go out until he shined his badge.

HE was a union detective, but he couldn't catch a cold in an open shop.

HE wouldn't know a crook if he saw one in a patrol wagon.

HE thinks Sing Sing is a Chinese laundry.

HIS wife had to have him arrested the other day. He was using her Pikingese for a blood hound.

NOT only that, but he rilined her best corset, using it for a straight jacket.

HE also took two of her solid silver napkin rings because he needed a pair of handcuffs.

HE'S studying hard to be a famous crime detector. He wants the sixth sense before he gets any of the others.

SHE WENT FROM BAD TO WORSE

Down to 98 Pounds—Finally Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Cleveland, Ohio.—"After having my first baby, I lost weight, no matter what I did. Then a doctor told me I would be better if I had another baby, which I did. But I got worse, was always sickly and went down to 98 pounds. My neighbor told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it helped her very much, so I tried it. After taking four bottles, I weigh 116 pounds. It has just done wonders for me and I can do my housework now without one bit of trouble."—MRS. M. RIESSINGER, 10004 Nelson Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

If some good fairy should appear, and offer to grant your heart's de[illegible], what would you choose? Wealth? Happiness?

Health? That's the best gift. Health is riches that gold cannot buy and surely health is cause enough for happiness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be the good fairy who offers you better health.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle —any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

OVER 21 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

Discouraged?

Skin still rough, pimply, clogged, after trying so many remedies? Then begin today to use Resinol Ointment. You won't have to wait to know that it is healing your trouble. The first application usually stops all smarting and itching and makes the skin look healthier. Its continued use for a reasonable time rarely fails to clear away the disorder entirely. A safe ointment for the most sensitive skin. Ask your druggist for

ASPIRIN

You doubtless depend on Aspirin to make short work of headaches, but remember that it's just as dependable an antidote for many other pains! Neuralgia? Many have found real relief in a Bayer Aspirin tablet. Or for toothache; an effective way to relieve it, and the one thing doctors are willing you should give a child—of any age. Whether to break up a cold, or relieve the serious pain from neuritis or deep-seated rheumatism, there's nothing quite like Bayer Aspirin. Just make certain it's genuine; it must have Bayer on the box and on every tablet. All druggists, with proven directions.

Physicians prescribe Bayer Aspirin; it does NOT affect the heart

Pittsburgh City of Sharp Contrasts; New Day Dawns

By B. C. FORBES

B. C. Forbes

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—What a city of contrasts is Pittsburgh!

I've just visited Steelopolis for the first time—visited it too hurriedly to get acquainted, so I plan to go again in the hope of getting better acquainted.

One's first impressions are mixed — very mixed.

But Pittsburgh is entering a new era, I believe.

Admittedly, I entered the city in more or less critical frame of mind. Pittsburgh is synonymous with the steel industry, and is closely identified with the coal industry. Neither industry has been conspicuously progressive in leading this country toward more ideal relations with workers—and any industry that has lagged in humanitarianism cannot excite one's wholehearted enthusiasm.

Such facts as these were on my mind when I stepped off the train:

The steel industry was lamentably slow in abolishing the twelve-hour day and the seven-day work week. Although it made more millionaires than almost any other industry—thanks partly to a friendly tariff—the industry has not set other industries an example by providing for its workers model homes or villages or towns far ahead of the times. Not until a few months ago did our largest steel company—the United States Steel Corporation—announce the establishment of a research department under a recognized authority—this notwithstanding that research has played a vital part in developing other industries for a decade, not to say a generation. In the field of advertising, the steel industry also has been laggard rather than leader.

As for the coal industry, my attitude was and is no different from that of most people—namely, that, taken by and large, it has been about the worst managed industry in America, an industry guilty of periodically upsetting, disturbing, destroying the harmonious flow of commerce and industry in this country.

Well, the first thing that struck me on driving through the city was its sharp contrasts. Here you have a series of beautiful, glorious institutions of learning and of art. There you run into drab rows of workers' homes the antithesis of inviting. Here you drive through exquisite parks. In an instant you find yourself bump up against a many stalked, necessarily grimy steel plant of gigantic magnitude. One moment you are shown palaces fit for kings. The next you again face working class quarters at the opposite end of the social scale—inevitably so, of course; but in Pittsburgh they are all thrown so bewilderingly close together.

I have come away with the feeling that a new day is dawning for Pittsburgh and for the steel industry—although it may be slower in coming for the coal industry.

Pittsburgh's industrial founders and pioneers were individualists—strong-willed, capable, powerful autocratic. The race of individualists, the race of dictators, the race of "masters" who ruled unquestioning servants is passing.

Democrats and industrial democracy are taking their place. The modern executive values and cultivates good-will, knowing that without it his organization cannot permanently prosper to the full.

Pittsburgh is destined to benefit incalculably from this transition.

An excellent civic spirit is developing among industrial and other business men. A committee of leading men of affairs has just been organized by the Mayor to co-operate with him in working for the well-being and progress of the city—a praiseworthy, significant development.

The generosity, the public-spiritedness, the philanthropies of Pittsburgh business men, I was repeatedly and authoritatively informed, never before reached their recent and present measure.

As a result of all this, new things are taking shape in Pittsburgh. Details must await more lengthy visit.

OIL CASE JUDGE ORDERS PROBE OF CONTEMPT

Washington, Nov. 15 (A.P.).—The Fall-Sinclair oil jury tampering investigation was thrown suddenly into a new field today by Justice Frederick L. Siddons, who moved to determine if there had been criminal contempt of his court in the tangle that led him to declare a mistrial in the conspiracy case against Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall.

District Attorney Gordon was placed on a commission of three to determine whether the court should have redress against the persons who brought a sensational halt to the Teapot Dome case.

John E. Laskey, former district attorney, and James S. Easby-Smith, prominent Washington lawyer, were named as Mr. Gordon's associates, with instructions to investigate thoroughly and prosecute if necessary.

Justice Siddons based his order on the affidavits filed with him containing remarks attributed to Juror Edward J. Kidwell that he expected an "automobile a block long" at the end of the trial, and outlining the activities of Burns detectives in shadowing the jury.

Meanwhile Gordon today sent before the grand jury, Charles G. Ruddy, who had charge of the Burns operatives that shadowed the trial jury. Ruddy is accused by William J. McMullin, one of his force, with having caused false reports to be made as to activities of jurors with a view to obtaining a mistrial.

William J. Burns and his son, W. Sherman Burns, waited outside the grand jury room as Ruddy testified, ready they said to disprove McMullin's charges.

NANKING ARMY IN NEW DRIVE TOWARD PEKIN

Pekin, Nov. 15 (A.P.).—The collapse of Hankow before the Nanking offensive against the Northern government of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin and the Nanking troops have been marching northward rapidly until they are now on the Hwai River. Dispatches from Tsinanfu admit Nanking troops have occupied Lingwaikwan in the province of Anhwei.

The new drive fits in with pressure on Shantung by Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang. Tsinanfu, however reports a counter-offensive by Shantung troops to regain the Kweiteh railway station. The town itself is still believed to be in the hands of Feng.

$3,000,000 BATH BRIDGE IS OFFICIALLY OPENED

Bath, Me., Nov. 15 (A.P.).—In the presence of several thousand people the $3,000,000 bridge connecting Bath and Woolwich, on opposite banks of the Kenebec River, was officially opened today to vehicular traffic and pedestrians. The railroad deck was opened October 24.

WRIGLEY'S is enjoying its most prosperous year with $10,000,000 net earnings from gum chewers in prospect.

27 PAY FINES OF $14,000 IN ALBANY POOL

Prominent politicians and government employes of Albany, with a former National League pitcher, paid fines aggregating $14,000 in Federal Court today, as promoters and operators of the famous Albany Pool.

The fines were paid by 27 defendants after pleading guilty to indictments charging them with conspiracy to transport lottery tickets from New York State to Massachusetts. Three of the defendants were from Western Massachusetts, several others were given suspended jail sentences, and the cases of eight more were nol prossed.

Fines of $1,000 each and suspended sentences of one year and a day were imposed on James Otto, former Albany letter carrier; George Boyle, former New York State legislator, and Walter J. Kane of Troy, alleged manager of the pool.

Oliver Stacy, theatrical manager of Albany, paid $750 and was given a suspended sentence of a year and a day. William Pringle, deputy collecter of internal revenue at Albany, was fined $1,000; Daniel McMahon, Albany matchmaker, $500; Daniel O'Connell, Albany Democratic leader, $750; George Carde, former Albany city detective, $500; John J. Papalau of Albany, former National League pitcher, $500, and suspended sentence of a year and a day.

The Massachusetts men who paid $500 each were Charles Owens of North Adams and Bernardo Conner and Leonard Johnson both of Springfield. Eight cases were nol-prossed, including Harvey White of Northampton.

The fines were paid immediately after the court session.

SILAS STRAWN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SPEAKER

Internationally prominent as a lawyer, golfer and business man, Silas H. Strawn of Chicago will be the speaker on Thursday at an assembly luncheon at the Boston Chamber of Commerce. His address, "Lawyers and Business," will be the fourth of the fall series of members' meetings.

Members of the Boston Bar Association will join with the Chamber of Commerce in welcoming Mr. Strawn, president of the American Bar Association. He has played a prominent part in the professional and business life of Chicago as a member of the Chicago Association of Commerce and as president for many years of the Commercial Club of Chicago. For several years Mr. Strawn was also president of the United States Golf Association.

SIMMONS SENIORS WIN "PRETTIEST ROOM" PRIZE

Competing against nearly 1,000 other girl students of Simmons College, Miss Eleanor Strickland of Quincy and Mary Rhoades of Boston, senior class room-mates, were returned victors today in the attractive room contest held by the School of Economics.

The contest was judged by Miss Marion Gardner, assistant professor of designs, after a committee of students inspected 500 rooms and turned in a list of the most attractive to her. The winners received a pair of brown leather book ends for their room.

NORTHERN WISCONSIN IS NEARLY SNOWBOUND

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 15 (A.P.).—The worst early Winter blizzard in many years in Northern Wisconsin has paralyzed traffic and closed schools. Deer hunters were in danger of being marooned by the snow drifts that reached four feet deep.

Snow is still falling. Storm warnings have been issued to Lake shippers.

Reports from Ironwood, Mich., pictured that city as "almost snowbound" and reports from Ashland, Superior, Wis., and Ishpeming, Mich., indicated similar conditions.

RECOUNT SOMERVILLE MAYORALTY VOTE TODAY

A recount of the Somerville mayoralty vote tonight will be started at Somerville City Hall. Mayor Leon M. Conwell was re-elected over John J. Murphy by a plurality of 985 votes.

Taxi Driver Fined $50

Walter H. Ehrhardt of Warren street, Roxbury, taxi driver, whose machine was in collision with a Haymarket Relief Station ambulance a week ago at Green and Chardon streets, North End, was fined $50 today in Municipal Court on a charge of dangerous driving. He appealed tended a White House luncheon yesterday. Lindbergh, Ruth Elder, Chamberlin, Levine, Byrd, Haldeman, all were there except Acosta. Lindbergh, as a matter of course, flew from New York to the luncheon, which shows President Coolidge's interest in flying. Congress ought to share that interest more enthusiastically.

Edward P. Warner, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, in charge of flying, says the Panama Canal is in danger, "its air defenses hopelessly inadequate."

That might interest the government, if only because the Panama Canal last year earned $18,131,119, a new record.

Chicago's Arts Ball committee planned to exhibit a Godiva, mounted on a white horse, as the ball's piece de resistance. You remember the lady who rode through the town with her long hair for clothing, when her husband dared her.

Chicago liked the Godiva idea so well that seven Godivas instead of one were moved and seconded like the three Topsys in a "Tom" show. But the difficulty is to find even one Godiva not bobbed. Long hair is necessary, with William Thompson as Mayor.

The committee reports sadly: "You can find plenty of good lookers with bobbed hair and a few not very good lookers with long hair. But good lookers and long hair combined are scarce."

Mr. L. H. Lee, convicted of a murder and sentenced by the judge, comes out, smiling, to pose for photographers, holding in his hand three red roses, "sent by a lady." The type that poses, smiling, for photographs just after being sentenced to death, is the type that commits murder. The type of lady that sends the roses is the mystery.

Mrs. Peabody, head of the Women's Committee for Law Enforcement, says: "Ten million women are not only talking and praying, but working to retain prohibition, and see that it is enforced."

They need not work or pray to keep prohibition in the Constitution; nothing can get it out.

As for enforcement, there is room for much working and praying in that direction.

New York's week-end crime was seven killed, three injured, guns and knives used. Each corner of this country contributes its little or big crime wave.

Two charming, adventurous young ladies named Talbot and Sanford will hunt big game in Africa. Elephants, lions, perhaps gorillas, will bite the dust. There is one comfort in such killing. It tends to eliminate disease.

Wild animals carry and perpetuate disease germs, each a breeding ground for germ colonies. Eventually the only living thing on earth will be man. He will have the planet to himself for many millions of years, to show what he can do with it.

FUR SALE
AT NORTHERN LOAN CO.
Authorized and Bonded by City of Boston.
$25, $35, $45, up

Hundreds of brand new up-to-date 1928 styles in Ladies' Fur Coats, the very same thing that you are paying hundreds for elsewhere. These coats are the same you see displayed in the finest fur stores in the country. We challenge anyone, small or large, to give greater values in Furs than we are giving. We invite every woman in all walks of life to make comparisons, because we are prepared to prove our claim. Don't misjudge these high-grade garments by the extreme low prices. This sale upsets every standard of value, past or present, because we are in a position to sell you high-grade garments for much less than the manufacturer can produce them for. These beautiful coats are for young, middle-aged and elderly women. In the lot are Caraculs, all shades; Fox-trimmed American Opossum; Pony, all shades; Fox-trimmed and plain Marmink; Natural and Silver Muskrat; Fox-trimmed Northern Seal (dyed coney) plain or trimmed Raccoons, Tomboy or crushed collar, and hundreds of others, too numerous to mention. Here are the real facts: We specialize in loaning money to furriers and the general public during their dull season for a limited time. If not redeemed, in order to dispose of them, the law compels us to advertise them legally and sell them to the public regardless of their original cost or value. Come down and see them for yourself. No obligation whatsoever. A small deposit will hold any coat you may select. Mail orders filled subject to examination. State size and shade you want.

Legal Notices 147

CITY OF BOSTON.

TRANSIT DEPARTMENT.

Proposals for Building Inclosed Area, Heating Plant and Heating System, Dorchester Rapid Transit.

The Transit Department of the City of Boston, 1 Beacon street, seventh floor, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for building an inclosed area, a steam heating plant and a steam heating system, near Fields Corner, Dorchester. A bond of an approved surety company will be required for the faithful performance of the contract in a sum of 45 per cent of the total bid price. Proposals should be filed out and signed by the bidder on forms to be obtained at this office, inclosed in a sealed envelope, indorsed "Proposal for Building Inclosed Area, Heating Plant and Heating System," and delivered to the department or to its secretary before 12 o'clock noon on Tuesday, November 29, 1927, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read. A properly certified check in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, payable to the city, should accompany the proposal. This check shall become the property of the city if the contract is not executed by the bidder within the time prescribed after the date of the notification by the department of the acceptance of the proposal and the readiness of the contract for signature. Proposals must be made in duplicate. The sealed duplicate, without check, is to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor, Room 20, City Hall, previous to the time named for opening the proposals. Plans, proposals, specifications and forms of contract can be obtained at this office. A deposit of $20 in cash or by certified check will be required for a set of plans and two sets of the specifications. Mutilation of them will be deemed sufficient cause for the forfeiture of said deposit.

By order of the City of Boston Transit Department.

A. D. ADAIR,
Acting Secretary.

This Week
"She's a Sheik" and "Moonlit Waters"

FOR the 25 best letters received from Evening American readers stating why you prefer trading with the concerns whose advertisements appear in the "Who's Who" columns, will give a pair of tickets to the

METROPOLITAN THEATRE

Three of the winning letters will be published below each week and each of the 25 winners will be notified by mail.

Letters should not exceed 100 words, and should be addressed to the Classified Advertising Manager, Boston Evening American.

Dear Boston American:—
Try an Atwater Kent Radio, with the simplicity of its tuning, before making a radio purchase. Just a turn of its one dial and you immediately have your preferred station clearly and distinctly with a minimum of time and trouble.
Consider the great service that Mr. A. Atwater Kent is rendering in furnishing the magnificent concerts to which we listen each Sunday Evening, and know in using one of his radios we are encouraging the continuance of this wonderful treat.
The World Radio Corporation, 349 Washington St., Boston, will demonstrate this instrument for you.
Sincerely,
Mrs. Charles M. Duren,
51 Beach Ave., Swampscott, Mass.

Gentlemen:—
Since the Palm Garden has been renovated it can compete with the finest dine and dance places in the country. The hazy lights, blended with the delightful harmony of Lou Klayman's soothing, perfect dance music, plus the delightful food, makes the Palm Garden the "Dine and Dance Place superb of Boston."
Very respectfully yours,
William A. Swift,
36 Assabet St., Neponset, Mass.

Dear Sir:—
My reasons for trading at McPherson's are:—
The best of goods at the lowest possible price. Their stock is the very latest and the prices are most reasonable.
Another reason, when entering McPherson's store, the closest attention is given to me and this is what attracted me the first time I traded there. I always patronize McPherson's.
Very truly yours,
Arthur Brown,
28 Tremlett St., Dorchester, Mass.

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE ☆ ☆ BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN ☆ ☆ BOSTON NOVEMBER 15, 1927

THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S PLATFORM FOR BOSTON AND NEW ENGLAND

For BOSTON:
1—Clean streets.
2—Solution of traffic and parking problems.
3—Better pay for honest public service.
4—An airport SECOND TO NONE.
5—Erection of a MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM to compare with any in the land, in order that Boston, properly supplied with first-class hotels, may be the premier convention city of the U. S. A.

For NEW ENGLAND:
1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.
2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.
3—Keeping everlastingly at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
4—Foster the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.

Bright Side

FACTS About Lowell

You must have read something about the city of Lowell recently, what was it?

Oh, yes, that one of the cotton mills had announced a 10 per cent. cut in wages, that another was about to move part of its machinery to South Carolina, that WITH A SINGLE EXCEPTION all the mills had paid their tax bills UNDER PROTEST.

Not a very good showing, not very encouraging.

BUT——

Here is another side of the Lowell picture:

The city started out to fill its Community Chest, the call being for $149,000.

The chest drive has ended with $150,947.10 in the strong box, almost $2,000 above the goal set and $25,000 more than last year's collection.

Again, the savings and co-operative banks of Lowell report deposits for the year amounting to $4,000,000.

This is MORE than was deposited last year, and the savings, widely distributed, are not the savings of any group.

The one textile corporation which has paid its tax without a protest is the Merrimack Manufacturing Company, which, like the Boott Mills, is making money.

In the opinion of a spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce the one-time "spindle" city is gradually shaking off its "dependence on cotton mills," a development he believes to be for the city's "ultimate good."

As a whole, conditions in Lowell appear to be nowhere near so bad as the world outside had been given to understand. The city's aggregate payroll, it is pointed out, is larger than it has ever been before in history, except during the World War.

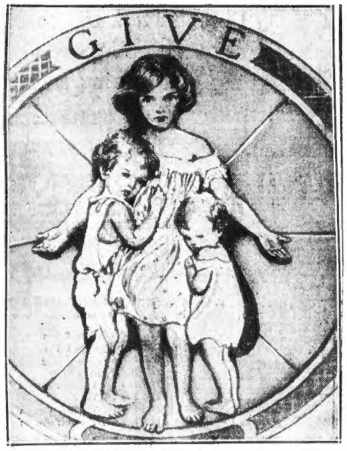
Lowell has had to stand for a lot of misrepresentation, much unpleasant publicity. Some of its troubles have been due to the wastefulness and extravagance of such "City Hall gangs" as brought Ralph S. Bauer from behind a stationer's counter out into the thick of a fight for municipal common sense.

It is a good city, Lowell is, "handy" to Boston and advantageously situated on both the Boston & Maine and the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroads. Its water-power is unexcelled in New England. Its $30 tax-rate represents a cut of $3.40, the LARGEST REDUCTION MADE THIS YEAR BY ANY CITY IN MASSACHUSETTS.

There is nothing in the Lowell record, closely analyzed, to warrant discouragement and there is no discouragement in Lowell.

Beauty of Childhood

The Greatest Power in the World Except ONE



A BEAUTIFUL CHILDHOOD, BY JESSIE WILLCOX SMITH

In this country, 296 communities, through their "war chests," raise for charity $64,000,000 every year.

The picture above, made by Jessie Willcox Smith for the Survey, is a most beautiful appeal to kind hearts.

We publish the picture because of its beauty and the lesson it teaches.

Few artists are able to interpret the beauty of childhood as it is done here.

You see the tallest of three children, a little girl, with the dawn of loving motherhood in her beautiful eyes, holding out her hands in appeal, with two little children clinging to her for protection.

Those three childish faces are as beautiful as anything can be in this world.

The influence of children's faces upon human beings is the power that has gradually raised men toward civilization. There is only one greater influence—that of the mother, fighting through the ages to make the world a fit place in which children may live.

The Boston Evening American congratulates Jessie Willcox Smith on her ability to make such a picture, and congratulates the Survey on its publication.

In this and in other Hearst newspapers it is published where millions will see it.

NOBODY EVER LOVES A BUSYBODY

By DR. FRANK CRANE

ARTICLES are appearing nowadays in the press saying that the white man should withdraw all of his merchants and missionaries and let China alone; she should be allowed to work out her own salvation without any interference from us.

It seems to be the popular impression that missionaries are busybodies who give us a great deal of trouble and are always asking for protection.

The impulse that made the missionaries go to China in the first place was an altruistic one. They did not go over to exploit the Chinese, but that exploitation, if there is any, is done by quite another class of Americans, though it is popular to give the missionaries the blame.

Just how far we ought to go to help make other people good is a question. Nobody loves a busybody and everybody resents being helped along the upward path. Nobody wants to be uplifted.

The very spirit of Christianity is one of helpfulness for one's neighbor. What Christianity would do without the missionary spirit it is hard to tell.

The old hymn expresses the Christian feeling:

> "Oh, that the world might taste and see
> The riches of His grace,
> The arms of love that compass me
> Would all mankind embrace."

What the world would be without this militant spirit of Christianity it is hard to say.

There have been the class of minds who have always railed at the missionaries and ridiculed them, but wherever they have gone in any country and wherever their work has not been thwarted by another kind of people, their influence has been good.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, father of the revolution in China, was himself a missionary product.

Everybody who has been benefitted by a great moral vision wants to impart it to other people. Of course there are a good many people who go about this offensively, and a good many others who resent interference with their private affairs.

To cut out the missionary spirit would be to emasculate Christianity. It is linked up with all the helpful reform movements of the world. Its aim is to make people better and many acknowledge its helpful influence.

To stop the work of righteous reformation would be unfortunate for humanity.

The situation in China calls for delicate and thoughtful consideration.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

DO you get discouraged sometimes, thinking how little and insignificant you are, how unimportant in comparison to the infinite hoards of men who have come and gone?

Do you sigh: "My life can't possibly matter?"

Stop it! Your life does matter. As a human being you're the most important thing that has ever happened on this earth. Probably on any earth.

You, just as you stand, five feet eight in your socks, squint eyed, knockneed, plump full of cussedness, are still the most glorious, significan spectacle that ever walked this stage.

Your relatives may not think much of you, your boss may be down on you, even the bill collectors may have given you up as a total loss. But you're not a total loss to the Big Boss who made you.

YOU'RE GOD'S LATEST, GREATEST PRODUCT, AND HE HAS PUT ALL HIS BETS ON YOU!

Millions, billions, endless trillions of experiments preceded your creation.

Millions, billions, endless trillions of organisms contributed to your existence.

God alone knows how long Life looked around for a proper vehicle to stage his big act before it decided to locate in you.

But it did locate in you. And, today, you're the record. You're the first thing in line, with the Whole Show going on for your benefit.

Fire and water, earth and air, sunset and moonrise, Winter and Spring, rose spray and bird song, all serving You.

And the mysteries inside you — courage, and laughter, pride and ambition, poetry and love.

Time and space toppling to help You along. Submarines, aeroplanes, telephones, radios, autos and trains—

What more do you want?

ELSIE ROBINSON
I'M A MAN!
THEN ACT LIKE ONE!
11-9

You're the heir of the ages—and then some!

You're a million years old and a billion lives strong and you're leading the whole parade.

Yet you go around whimpering. "Guys like me don't count!"

Cut it out! Be yourself!

You're no worm! You're no blunder. You're not lost in the shuffle!

YOU'RE THE BEST THING GOD'S DONE!

ACT YOUR AGE!

He is great who is what he is from nature, and who never reminds us of others. —Emerson.

Errors, like straws, upon the surface flow;
He who would search for pearls,
must dive below.—Dryden.

LAPLACE CARRIED ON AFTER NEWTON

By Garrett P. Serviss.

Noted Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Subjects of Popular Interest.

THIS year has seen the two hundredth anniversary of the death of Sir Isaac Newton, and the one hundreth of the death of the Marquis de Laplace, the two men who did more than any others to establish astronomy as the most exact and grandest of the sciences.

Newton was the founder of "celestial mechanics." Laplace, in the words of Emile Picard of the French Academy of Sciences, was "the most illustrous contributor of his (Newton's) work."

It is a commonplace to say that the names of these men are worthy of higher honor than those of the greatest conquerers, but how many feel the full truth of that statement? Newton and Laplace conquered the universe for the human mind.

There is no exaggeratoin in the Latin inscription on Newton's tomb in Westminster Abbey, which says that mortals have reason to congratulate themselves that the human race could bring forth so great an ornament. And a remark of Fourier referring to the crowning achievement of Laplace is no less just: "Even Newton did not know all the perfections of the universe."

As an indication of how Laplace supplemented Newton and, in perfecting, sometimes re-formed his work we may take the question of the stability of the solar system. Newton, as M. Picard puts it, "saw in the admirable arrangement of the sun and the planets the work of an intelligent and all-powerful being, but he thought that, in consequence of the perturbations produced by the mutual action of these bodies, this arrangement could not be indefinitely maintained, and he believed that the solar system would have need, some day, to be re-arranged by its author."

This was disturbing, and Laplace took up the problem and was able to show, half a century after Newton's death, that only the details and not the general arrangement of the members of the solar system are altered by their mutual perturbations, whence the permanence of the system may be regarded as highly probable, if not absolutely certain. This view, as enforced by later investigations, prevails today.
